Laird Predicts LBJ Policy on Viet Nam War

Quarantine, Troops, Foreign Aid Cutoff In GOP Forecast

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Rep. Melvin R. Laird, (R) Marshfield, today made three predictions on a future policy the Johnson administration will make concerning the war in Viet Nam.

The congressman, who is chairman of the House Republican Conference, made these predictions during a press conference on the release of the Republican conference's so-called "White Paper on Viet Nam."

Laird said that the Johnson administration will insist that nations receiving United States foreign aid will have to stop trading directly or indirectly with Communist North Viet Nam. He also predicted that the administration will "eventually" impose a "Kennedy-type quarantine" around the approaches to North Vietnamese ports. His tions, not Republican, bear responsibility for the U.S. position in South Viet Nam.

Further, the 37-page report argues that some of President Johnson's campaign talk was aimed at making Barry Goldwater appear trigger-happy but may have caused Communists to miscalculate and accelerate the Vietnamese war.

As rebuttal to Johnson's statement that he is carrying out a commitment former President Dwight D. Eisenhower made to Viet Nam in 1954, the white paper said the original U.S. involvement had come under the Truman administration in 1950. Fearing they might be out-staged by Johnson again, the House Republican leaders Tuesday threw away their script for issuing the white paper and sprinted to beat him into the limelight.

It was serious business for the House GOP leaders, who contend Johnson is trying to push them into the background and silence their attempts to criticize some of his policies and present their own.

For a week they let it be known they were going to issue their paper today. They set the unveiling for a news conference at 11 a.m.

Then, with reason for frustration, the House GOP chiefs saw the White House beating them to the punch. On Monday the administration issued its own pamphlet called "Why Viet Nam." Then the White House, breaking the usual afternoon pattern for news conferences, scheduled one for Johnson at 10 a.m. today — one hour before the Republicans.

LBJ Invites Reds To Gemini Launch

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson offered to the Soviet Academy of Science today an invitation to observe next month's launching of the Gemini 6 space capsule.

The President told a news conference that he had directed space administrator James E. Webb to invite the academy to send a high-level representative to the space shot—one goal of which is a rendezvous with an orbiting satellite.

Johnson said he hoped the Russians would accept the invitation, and that their representative would get a warm welcome.

Appointments Listed

The President also announced he has instructed the Defense Department to go ahead with developing a manned orbital laboratory.

"This program," he said, "will bring us new knowledge of what man is able to do in space. It will enable us to relate that knowledge to the defense of America."

A string of appointments to federal jobs was on the announcement list, too, for the presidential session with newsmen.

It was the first presidential news conference in nearly a month—the previous one was planned to announce the plans to build up U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

It also was the first since the Los Angeles riots and the latest Gemini 5 space launch.

Among the new appointments, Johnson said he is reinforcing the U.S. team at the United Nations with four Americans who share with Ambassador Arthur W. Goldberg "a passion for peace."

One of the four is Rep. James

U.S. Astronauts Sail Through Midpoint in 8-Day Space Trip

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — L. Gordon Cooper Jr., the new world space flight king, and his talkative partner Charles Conrad Jr. blazed a record shattering trail toward today's midway point in their heavenly eight-day voyage.

The Gemini 5 spacecraft whipped around the world almost flawlessly as it neared the end of the mission's fourth day at 8:59 a.m. (EST). That's the halfway mark.

Comfortable in their cramped, weightless quarters, the two spacemen appeared sure to ride the skies the full eight days. All systems were "go."

By 3:43 a.m. (EST) they had completed 57 orbits.

American Record

At the halfway point, Cooper and Conrad could claim the American record for being in space longer than any other member of the nation's astronaut team.

Cooper and Conrad planned to turn their eyes to the Atlantic Ocean during their 62nd orbit in hopes of catching a glimpse of 16 visual sighting panels spread over the flight deck of the USS Lake Champlain, the primary recovery ship.

They saw the ship's wake, but not the panels, as the vessel churned through the ocean southwest of Bermuda Tuesday.

The two bearded spacemen are pleasing the doctors who keep constant tabs on them from earth stations around the world. But the astronauts don't seem to be getting as much sleep as some flight officials would like.

"Did Gordon (Cooper) go to sleep right after your last Hawaii pass?" a communicator in the Hawaii tracking station asked during one pass.

"He's sort of been catnapping," Conrad replied. "He had a good long nap, he had about an hour of very deep sleep in this last orbit."

Hawaii: "And how long was you nap?"

Conrad: "I slept about an hour and a half."

Hawaii: "Pretty good sleep?"

Conrad: "Yeah, I don't remember anything."

Dr. Duane Catterson, night flight surgeon, indicated no cause for concern over the short

Gemini Flight Is 'Military'

MOSCOW (AP) — Red Star, which speaks for the Soviet armed forces, charged today that the Gemini 5 flight is being used for military purposes.

"The bosses in the Pentagon do not conceal the fact that piloted cosmic ships can be the key to strategic domination in cosmic space," Maj. I. Vereshchagin wrote in the paper.

"The main aim of the Gemini flights is reconnaissance and checking the possibilities of the interception of artificial Sputniks and remnants from outer space."

sleep cycles and said: "Everything is looking satisfactory. The crew is feeling fine."

Ample Water

The astronauts are getting an ample amount of water — close to the national earthly average of six pounds per man a day.

Meals were being consumed on schedule, but still aboard. It was that first day's supply, which was not eaten because of the astronauts' hectic pace in the troublesome early hours of the mission.

Cooper became the champion of outer space at 9:47 p.m. (EST) Tuesday when the craft whirled over the Atlantic on the 54th orbit.

He surpassed Soviet cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky's mark of 119 hours and 6 minutes by including the logged time on this flight with the 34 hours and 20 minutes of his Faith 7 Mercury mission in 1963.

Cooper and Conrad seem to be progressing well in the various experiments on the flight plan, having completed several photographic and communications exercises.

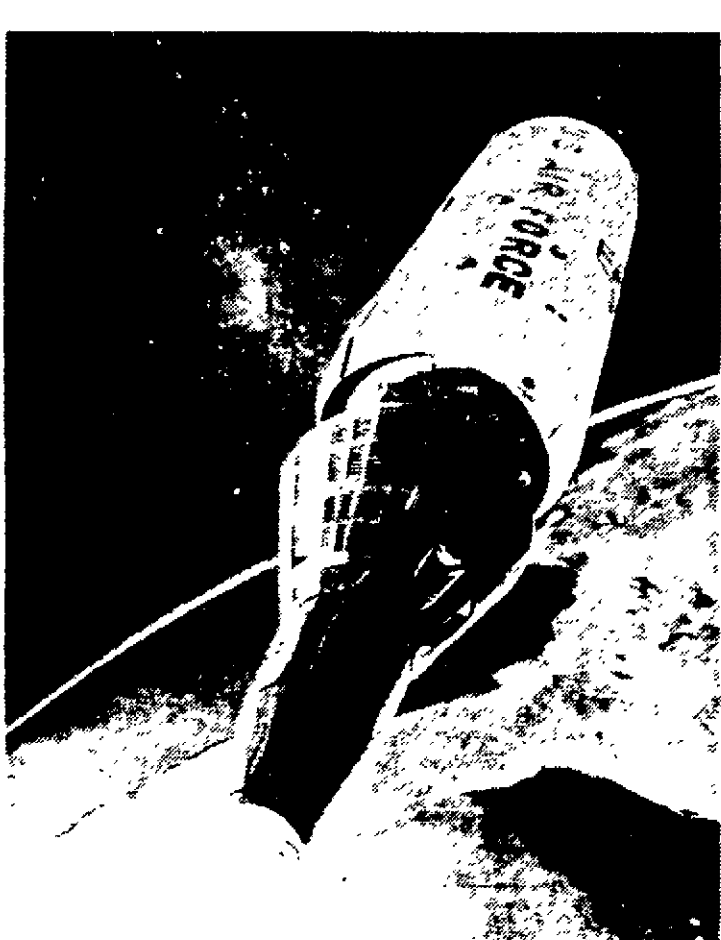

Trouble developed in a radar locking system aboard the craft when it tried to zero in on a beacon mounted on a tower at Cape Kennedy. Conrad was not able to report a correct range. Flight officials blamed this on the apparent failure of a locking device in the radar unit.

Other minor problems: a fuse blew in one of the back-up computers at mission control and was replaced. A cabin temperature gauge on the spacecraft quit functioning, and the astronauts now use hand-held thermometers to check the cabin temperature.

Flight officials and crew have been working up an exercise for the astronauts to try to determine the best time of night and the best position for a docking maneuver with an Agena rocket.

Docking with the rocket is the primary purpose of Gemini 6, scheduled for Oct. 25.

Crews of two ships spotted the spacecraft yesterday as it glided in the sunlight.

This Is An Artist's Conception of the Manned Orbiting Laboratory (MOL) revealed by President Johnson at his news conference in Washington today. Under present planning, MOL will consist of a pressurized cylinder, about 25-30 feet long and 10 feet in diameter, attached to a modified Gemini space capsule. It will be lifted into orbit by the Air Force Titan IIIC booster. (AP Wirephoto)

Polite 'Decency' War

Shorts Worrying Quebec

QUEBEC (AP) — Quebec's city government is waging a polite war on women wearing shorts and other scanty attire in public places.

Police are passing out a pamphlet to underdressed females telling them: "Involuntarily you have committed an infraction of Bylaw 784 concerning decency and good morals. We ask you, as a way of giving our department your best collaboration, to observe our rules, and we thank you for obliging us."

The pamphlet was written with tourists in mind and tells them: "As a stranger to Quebec, it is possible that you are not aware of our municipal regulations." However, police say most of the 100 women warned so far have been natives, not visitors.

A few scanned the pamphlet, then tossed it away "as if they didn't think it important," said Police Chief Gerard Girard.

The chief said that while many citizens have been complaining about underdressed females, no one has been charged yet, but we will certainly make some examples," he said.

Bylaw 784 required "the wearing of clothing covering, in decent fashion, the lower as well as the upper portions of the body, in the city's streets or parks."

Scanty Clothes

Clothing classed as objectionable includes dresses scanty around the shoulders, bathing suits, and shorts unless they are part of a military or scout uniform or are worn for sporting purposes within appropriate areas.

Those found guilty of violating the bylaw can be fined up to $100, plus costs, or be sent to jail for not more than three months if they don't pay up.

Chief Girard says the summer may be too far gone for the cover-up campaign to have a lasting effect, but he says his men will resume the battle next summer with vigor.

"We're going to fight tenaciously to gain our point," he said.

First Indication of Red Antiaircraft in South, Says United States Spokesman

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — A U.S. Navy phantom jet plane has been shot down by what appeared to be a surface-to-air missile about 90 miles south of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported today.

The supersonic plane, from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Midway, was hit Tuesday near the city of Thanh Hoa, the spokesman said.

The downing was the first indication that Communist anti-aircraft missiles have been moved as far south as Thanh Hoa. It seemed likely that the missile was fired from a mobile launcher.

Parachute Sighted

One parachute was seen after the Phantom was hit, but search and rescue operations failed to locate the American airman. The other crewman is presumed dead, the spokesman said.

Two other American planes have been downed in the past month by missiles which Soviet technicians are presumed to have installed in North Viet Nam. U.S. officials believe Soviet personnel are helping to man the missile launchers.

A U.S. Air Force Phantom was downed by a missile northwest of Hanoi July 24, and a Navy Skyhawk was shot down Aug. 12 about 50 miles southwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

The spokesman said the Phantom downed Tuesday was flying support for an armed reconnaissance mission. It was hit on or near the tail, he said, and the pilot of the wing aircraft reported a missile probably was responsible.

Fixed Sites

U.S. reconnaissance planes have located fixed missile sites around Hanoi, but Adm. U.S.G. Sharp, commander of the U.S. forces in the Pacific, said the missile that downed the Skyhawk on Aug. 12 apparently came from a mobile launcher.

In Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge presented his credentials as the new U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam and told Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu: "I hope you can make use of me."

At Ceremony

Other top members of the U.S. mission who attended the informal, 20-minute ceremony at the presidential palace included Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

Lodge, 63, was ambassador in South Viet Nam for nine months until June 1964, when he was succeeded by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Taylor resigned last month.

The Viet Cong claimed "absolute supremacy" in the Viet Nam war following its 15-minute mortar attack early Tuesday on the Bien Hoa air base 12 miles north of Saigon.

Desperados Charged After They Held 11 Persons Hostages

FERNLEY, Nev. (AP)—Two desperate gunmen in a wild modern saga of the Old West, have been charged with robbing a California tavern at bayonet-point, kidnaping a couple on a John D. Colvan, 20, Hudson Falls, N.Y. Both told officers hostages before 100 officers surrounded them in a lonely Nevada farmhouse.

Mrs. Alice Clements, 40, one of the hostages, commented after the 13-hour drama ended Tuesday that the two men were "just a couple of scared kids."

Charged with kidnaping and robbery were James R. Gourlay, 21, of Detroit, Mich., and a man whose name was not disclosed.

Horseback Escape

The men had planned to try to escape across the Nevada desert on horseback, but apparently changed their mind after saddled horses were brought to the farmhouse for them by a Lyon County deputy sheriff.

The men had threatened to harm the hostages if the horses weren't made ready.

Some shots were fired by officers during the three hours Gourlay and Colvan held off 100 FBI, Nevada highway patrol and sheriff's deputies from inside the Fernley farmhouse of J. Gill Clements.

No one was hurt.

That when President Eisenhower left office, "South Vietnam had a stable and established government. . . . When President Eisenhower left office, there was no crisis in Vietnam."

The Republicans charged, however, that "the policy of the Democratic administration has too often been uncertain, providing a basis for miscalculation by the Communists. Policy has been altered abruptly. Continuing policy statements have not been issued. Deeds have not matched words."

They expressed belief miscalculation had been encouraged by some of Johnson's oratory in the last presidential campaign.

"In order to make his opponent (Barry Goldwater) appear reckless and trigger-happy, the President in several statements set limits to American participation in the Vietnamese conflict," said the GOP report.

The Communists in Hanoi and Peking, the Republicans said, could only interpret some of these statements as meaning "they need not fear fuller use of the power of the United States."

Loot's Hoots Put Finger on Finger

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Because the loot did give a monkey's hoot, General M. Finger, 32, faced a burglary charge to day.

Finger pleaded not guilty Tuesday in County Court to a charge of burglarizing an apartment. Police quoted witnesses as saying a burglar carried a caged pet squirrel monkey from a northside apartment, but identified Finger, he added.

Waukegan Traffic Judge Nabs Reckless Driving Son

WAUKEGAN Ill. (AP) — If it were up to Circuit Court Judge Peter J. Melius, his 17-year-old son would be in jail today awaiting trial on nine traffic violations charges.

"I wanted to let him stay in jail and get a taste of jail life," the judge said Tuesday, "but my wife wouldn't let me. She insisted on bailing him out."

The boy, Michael, accumulated the charges Sunday night as he eluded Waukegan police in an 80-mile-an-hour chase along city streets.

Police noted his car license number and called the judge. Judge Melius immediately went looking for the youth and found him with several friends trying to extricate the car from a swamp northwest of the city.

Judge Melius took his son to the police station and turned him in.

"My kid is going to have to whole thing," he said.

Johnson said he will sign the poverty program bill Thursday and will nominate Eugene Patrick Foley, 36, now administrator of the Small Business Administration, to head economic development.

In another action, David G. Bress, 36, head of the bar association in Washington, D.C., was named U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

Nabrit, Taylor and Alexander are Negroes.

Johnson told of an aim to improve government efficiency. He said each Cabinet member has been asked to introduce a revolutionary system of budgeting so the promise of finer lives can be brought to every American.

Each department will set up a special staff of experts to define goals for the coming year.

The President said this system will enable us to determine the least costly method of achieving goals, and will help us find ways to do jobs faster, better and at less expense.

The Communist editorial also claimed that 400 U.S. Marines were killed in the Van Tuong battle. The Marines estimated more than 600 Viet Cong were killed in the battle, and Lt. Gen. Victor Krulak, commander of U.S. Marines in the Pacific, said about one per cent of the Marines in the battle were killed. Military sources indicated earlier that between 5,000 and 6,000 Marines took part in the fighting.

Demand Withdrawal

In Moscow, the North Vietnamese Embassy said the Hanoi government still demands that the United States agree to withdraw its troops from Vietnam before there can be any negotiations to end the war.

Lord Fenner Brockway, chairman of the British Council for Peace in Viet Nam, had said earlier that the North Vietnamese ambassador in Moscow had told him an American troop withdrawal did not have to precede peace talks.

Brockway, contacted by telephone at the Black Sea resort of Sochi, repeated this and said he was sure he had not misrepresented the North Vietnamese position.

About 200 Vietnamese students met in Saigon to protest a new military draft law which they contend is aimed at intellectuals. The law requires all Vietnamese males between 20 and 37 to register for possible military service.

Chief test pilot James A. Ryan and project test pilot Bert J. Hughes, parachuted safely. The plane crashed in the flames in a swamp on the federal reservation about 7:30 a.m.

Officials would only say the plane had been in flight approximately 20 minutes and was on its way back to the land strip.

third prediction already confirmed by the administration several weeks ago, was that additional American troops will be committed to the war in Vietnam.

Propose Quarantine

Laird said that if the administration had imposed a naval quarantine against Communist bloc shipping similar to the Kennedy quarantine in Cuba in 1959, much of the equipment now used against American troops would have been prevented from getting into Communist hands.

Apparently in an attempt to smooth over the recent President Johnson-Gen. Eisenhower-house minority leader Gerald Ford misunderstanding, the Wisconsin legislator said that "Gen. Eisenhower and Rep. Ford had gone an extra step in supporting the President's action in Viet Nam even though they did not always approve of the policy decisions the President had made."

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut Charles Conrad Jr. took pictures of the volcano Kilauea on the island of Hawaii Tuesday.

At the same time infrared sensors in the adapter section of the spacecraft were attempting to measure the amount of heat being released by the molten lava.

The photography and infrared measurements are part of an experiment assigned Gemini 5. Success of the experiment couldn't be determined immediately, the space agency said.

Other volcanoes in the world to be examined are San Miguel in El Salvador, Telica in Nicaragua, Irazu in Costa Rica, and Langila in the New Britain Islands.

He praised the college student leaders as "one of our finest lines of communications."

Barefoot Army Making Swift, Deadly Contact With Viet Cong Forces

Popular Forces Meet Guerrillas In Rice Paddies, Swamps, Jungle

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
CHAU THANH, South Viet Nam (AP) — Something new, something encouraging, is happening in this area of the Mekong River delta.

The barefoot army known as the PFs, the popular forces, is going out at night, out into the rice paddies, out into the mangrove swamps and the jungles, to meet the Viet Cong on its own terms of ambush and sneak attack.

For a long time the PFs seldom stirred at night from their sandbagged, barbed wire-encrusted watchtowers at the edge of every little hamlet and village. Now hardly a night goes by without some squad making deadly and swift contact with an unwary band of Viet Cong.

"These are the fiercest and most loyal fighters in the country," said Lt. Col. Donald L. Roberts of Port Angeles, Wash., sector adviser to Vinh Long province. "They know who the enemy is. They know where he is."

Unlike the regular Vietnamese army, the PFs fight only in the vicinity of their own hamlet or village. Equipped with World War II carbines and sportsman's shotguns, the PFs are full-time soldiers who live in, camp with their wives and children and come under the leadership of the district or village chief.

Similar Guard

A similar force of full-time home guards called the regional forces, or the RFs, operates in company strength under direction of the province chief. These usually are uniformed and equipped with mortars or automatic weapons.

"In the past six months, the PFs and RFs accounted for 70 per cent of all Viet Cong casualties," said Capt. James Orr of Atlanta, Ga. "They are fighting for their homes and families, right there in their own back yard."

With the unrelenting sun shafting down through the banana and coconut trees, this correspondent climbed into a sampan and went to visit PF outposts.

Maj. Luong Dinh Bay, district leader trained in a French officer candidate school, rode the bow of the sampan, automatic rifle cradled at the ready, his deep black eyes constantly roving the canal bank.

Capt. Jack Miller of Canton, Mo., the major's American adviser, sat in the stern, pointing out how the PFs in the area had cleared the canal bank of dense foliage to deny the Viet Cong a hiding place.

Undergoing pacification, has about 110,000 population, most of the men fishermen and rice farmers. It's my hope that maybe next harvest no V Claxes will be collected in this district at all."

He looked at the squad's weapons and an expression of disgust came over his face. "I never thought I'd see the day when as an American I'd be fighting an enemy with superior weapons. The VC has mortars and machine guns. I've been fighting to get better weapons for the popular forces. But headquarters is afraid more sophisticated weapons will wind up in Communist hands. Hell, these guys take twice as many weapons as they lose."

Monkey Bridge

Maj. Bay proudly led the way up the bank, over a rickety monkey bridge, to a hamlet outpost guarding a strategic spot on the busy Cai Sao canal.

Behind new earthworks five feet high and five feet thick, surrounded by seven mind-moats each separated by thick barbed wire, a platoon stood alert. Each man had bought his own uniform, paid for his own hammock.

The major was immensely pleased with his men.

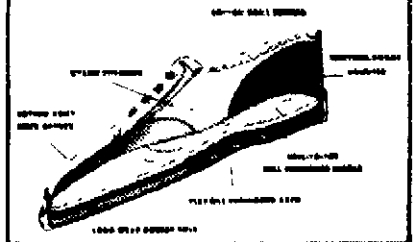

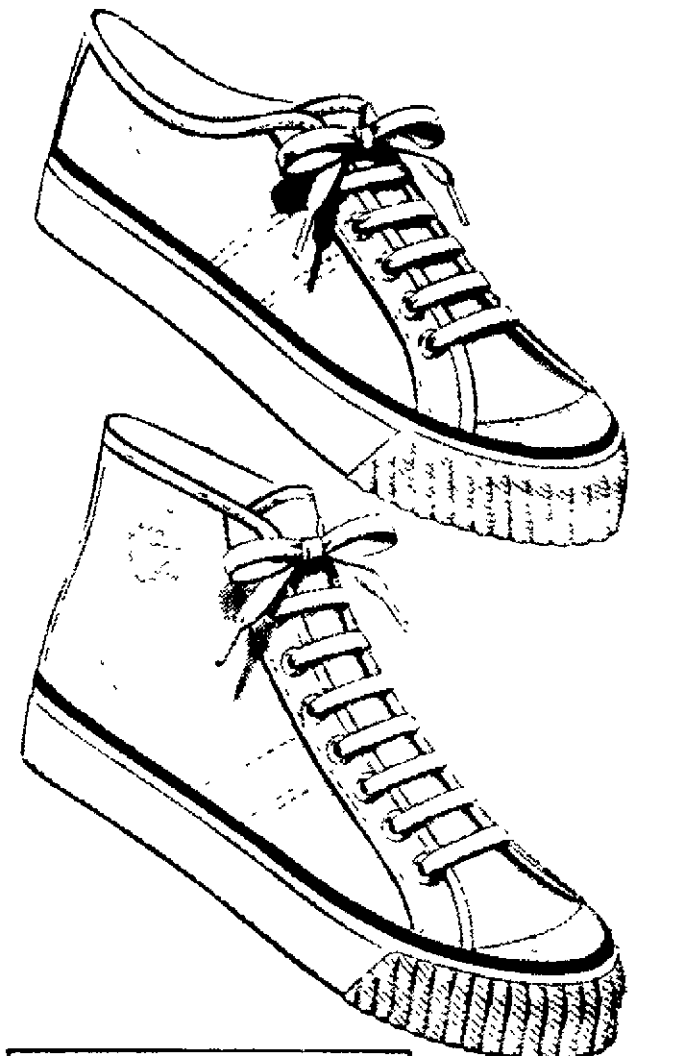

"These are all five-year veterans," he said.

All day traffic flowed along the muddy canal, an old man alone in a sampan under a pink parasol, a young woman standing up front on another, doing the poling while her husband in the back did the steering, the river merchant moving from hamlet to hamlet in his junk, over their shoulders. At night offering pots and dishes and they sat for hours, watching, clothes in exchange for shrimp and rice and bread, shrimp fish to themselves or their families. At the Luc Hoa outpost, which recently killed 13 Viet Cong and confiscated 11 Communist weapons on a night operation, the major called on Le Van Liem, 23, the platoon leader, to tell what pressures were put on roads, barefoot, rifles slung by the VC

Plan for Parallel Parking On College Ave. Ordered

Appleton Commission Tells City Planner to Prepare Front-to-Back Specifications

Preparation of a front-to-back parallel parking plan for the College Avenue business district by City Planner-Engineer Walter Rasmussen was ordered unanimously Tuesday night by the Appleton Parking Commission.

The plan will be acted on at the next commission meeting.

The action was taken after Public Works Director Robert W. Bues disclosed that due to circumstances beyond his control, the reconstruction of College Avenue will be postponed for at least another year.

Reconstruction tentatively had been scheduled to start in 1966 but has now been set back to 1967 unless the city should suddenly decide to enter into a "crash" program, something Bues indicated he would not advise.

Key Decision
Bues' announcement came as no surprise. Recent meetings by local and national planners with downtown businessmen produced no tangible results in arriving at some agreement on how the College Avenue of the future should look.

One of the key decisions in planning the avenue's reconstruction, which will include all new underground utilities, street and sidewalks, is the type of parking system to be installed. The parking system eventually chosen by the city also will have an effect on the preparation of the overall central business district and traffic plans.

Tried in 1964
At the last meeting of the common council when it appeared aldermen were nearing a vote on the parking question, Ald. John MacDonald (7th) had the matter referred back for further review. The council at the time had a joint recommendation of the parking commission and public safety committee before it called for installing the new parallel system.

(Front-to-back parallel parking was tried in the 100 blocks of East and West College Avenue over a four-week period in 1964 and met with overwhelming public acceptance on the basis of two independent surveys.)

(Under the proposed new system pavement markings would consist of a pair of 19-foot stalls with 8-foot maneuvering spaces ahead of and behind each pair, providing room for getting in and out of the parking space without interfering with moving traffic.)

Members of the parking commission Tuesday night reviewed the amount of off-street parking now available in Appleton and touched briefly on future plans to provide additional levels (340

Utility Seeks Rate Increase At Kaukauna

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Wisconsin Telephone Company today asked the Wisconsin Public Service Commission for authority to increase rates at its Kaukauna exchange and to improve service in the surrounding rural area.

The company proposes to offer one, two and four-party urban service instead of the present eight-party rural service and urban service with mileage charges.

Three rate zones would be established in the rural area and the present rate base area would be enlarged.

The commission said it will hold a public hearing on the plan in Madison Sept. 7.

The company said it now has slightly fewer than 300 rural customers and 148 mileage customers in the rural areas served from the Kaukauna exchange. The figure includes 288 residential customers who represent about 8 per cent of the total residential users.

"To us this indicates that most of our customers desire better grades of service," the company said.

Last Call for Appleton Pupils

Appleton students who have not registered for the fall semester are urged to do so this week at the school they attended last year.

If a student has moved and doesn't know where to register, the attendance office at Morgan School can be contacted by calling RE 9-3121. School will begin Sept. 7.

CAC Plans Winter Activities Program

Catholic Unit to Sponsor Events For Adults, Youths at St. Mary

Activities in the winter program of the Catholic Activities Council will be held again at St. Mary Catholic Grade School.

Program Director David Hussey said plans call for activities for three main groups — high school youth, adult men and adult women.

The center will be open to high school students Friday, Saturday and Tuesday evenings, beginning Friday. Social, recreational, sport and gymnastic activities will be included.

Weekend sessions will run from 8 to 11 p.m., with Tuesday activities lasting from 7 to 10 p.m.

Wednesday evening programs for adult men will begin Sept. 15. Volleyball, badminton, basketball and gymnastic activities will be held from 7 to 10 p.m.

An exercise program for adult women will begin Sept. 16 and continue on Thursdays. Also included on the program will be volleyball, badminton, soccer games, trampolining, vaulting and ring work for a two-hour session running from 8 to 10 p.m.

Open to All Residents
CAC is a Red Feather agency whose activities are open to all area residents. Season passes are available, and persons may participate also on a single admission basis.

Hussey said the summer program was successful, citing an attendance of 24,800 compared to 21,400 for the previous summer.

The summer program, which centered at Xavier High School, included afternoon sessions for junior high school youth and evening sessions for senior high school students.

While the afternoon sessions consisted mainly of recreational activities, the evening programs included weekly dances and movies, gymnasium activities for both boys and girls, archery and golf instruction.

The senior group participated in an excursion to Silver Lake, and its members were able to go to confession each Monday evening.

Distribution of Recodified City Ordinances Set

Bound Copies of Law Books to be Given Out Sept. 1

Bound copies of Appleton's recodified ordinances will be distributed to aldermen and department heads Sept. 1, the welfare ordinance committee decided Tuesday night.

The 150 books were received recently by City Clerk Elden Broehm who advised he had no authority to give them out until the committee gave the okay and fixed a price, if any.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), committee chairman and council president, said the fee to be charged attorneys and others seeking the new code books will be set at the next meeting of his committee in two weeks.

In the meantime, the committee has recommended the recodified ordinances be open for inspection in the clerk's office between Sept. 1-15.

In other action, the committee:

—Recommended that as of July 1, 1966, the fee for club licenses in Appleton be the same as taverns.

—Decided that when requests for bartender's licenses are received after the regular committee meeting, they will be acted on at the following meeting instead of calling a special session to review the applications.

Campers Irritated By Motorbikes at Plamann Park

Campers are normally bothered by foul weather, bees and wild beasts, but about 30 campers the last few days have become irritated with motorcycle drivers in the Plamann Park area.

County police learned today that young campers have been chased and frightened by three motor-bicycle enthusiasts during the last two days while they camped in the park.

Adult leaders obtained license numbers of the bike drivers and turned the information over to authorities who are investigating.

One woman said a cyclist chased the younger children riding their bicycles and another said the motorized cyclists frightened the children. The campers are in the third and fourth grades of various schools, the adult leaders said.

Green Bay Man Walks Into Train, Dies From Injuries Today

Post-Crescent News Service
GREEN BAY—Alvin Destache, 51, 107½ N. Broadway, who was struck by a train Monday night, died this morning in a Green Bay hospital.

Destache, who suffered an injured chest, collarbone and head and hand and elbow cuts when hit by a Chicago and North Western passenger train at the Hubbard Street crossing, was reported in good condition at St. Vincent Hospital Tuesday, but his condition grew worse during the night. He died at 8:40 a.m.

Hospital authorities said the cause of death had not been determined at noon today. An official said an autopsy would probably be taken.

Witnesses told city police that Destache had waited for a southbound freight train, and began walking across the crossing before he was hit by the passenger train heading the opposite direction.

The engineer said the train was approaching the station and had the emergency brakes on. Witnesses said the engine's whistle blew two or three times before Destache was hit.

4 From Shiocton Detention Home Found Out After Hours

Four teen-age girls who said they are residents of a licensed home for wayward girls near Shiocton were questioned by county authorities after they were seen in a restaurant in Shiocton about 12:30 a.m. today, 2½ hours after their curfew.

The four said they left the home after telling the licensed operator, Norman Feavel, they were going swimming. The girls are allowed to come and go at the home, but must be in the home at 10 p.m., authorities said.

The girls walked to Leeman and then hitchhiked to Shiocton where they waited at the restaurant for a friend to drive them to the home.

Slasher Damages $150 in Goods

A slasher, armed with a razor blade or sharp cutting tool, inflicted damage estimated at $150 to clothing and merchandise on display racks at the Treasure Island Department Store in the Town of Grand Chute after closing hours yesterday.

Outagamie County sheriff authorities are investigating the incident which was reported this morning.

Damaged were six coats, slippers and car cushions. A survey of other stores along W. College Avenue near the Treasure Island Store is being conducted today to determine if other damage was done, authorities said.

13 New Teachers To be at Kimberly Catholic School

KIMBERLY — Thirteen new and thirteen old teachers will conduct classes at Holy Name Catholic Grade School beginning Sept. 2.

About 1,100 pupils are expected to attend the school this year. A mass in honor of the Holy Spirit will begin the school year.

Joining the staff this year are Sister M. Agatha, O. P.; Sister M. Maurice, O. P.; Sister M. Philip, O. P.; Sister Aloysia, O. P.; Sister M. Jordan, O. P.; Sister Mary Faith, O. P., and Sister Mary Ambrose, O. P.

Lay teachers include Mrs. Jerome Jansen, Mrs. Rosemary Schmidt, Miss Patricia Van Hout and David Mentin.

Sister Emily, O. P., will conduct chorus classes in the seventh and eighth grades and teach piano lessons. Sister Augusta, O. P. will do private tutoring when needed.

Sister M. Jose, O. P. will be in charge of domestic duties in the convent.

Attorneys Appointed For Two Men Charged With Four Burglaries

Attorneys were appointed for Ronald D. Dexter, 20, 511 N. Lawe St., New London, and Ronald Lund, 18, of Medina, both charged with four counts of burglary and breaking and entry. They appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Tuesday afternoon where the charges were filed against them.

County Judge Gustave Keller set bond of $1,500 each and continued the matter to Friday.

Dexter and Lund were arrested by sheriff authorities after investigations of nine break-ins in the Outagamie and Waupaca county areas. Two other youths, both juveniles, have also been arrested in connection with the burglaries and are awaiting juvenile court action.

Repaved N. Meade To Open Thursday

New Curb and Gutter Work Completed About on Schedule

Reconstructed N. Meade Street between Lindbergh Street and Northland Avenue will be opened to traffic Thursday. Public Works Director Robert W. Bues announced today.

He said the project, which included new curb and gutter and concrete street, was completed about on schedule.

In the meantime, work is continuing on the Washington-Franklin Street extension with concrete paving now underway. Bues estimated that with favorable weather, the project will be finished in about a month.

The opening of the Washington-Franklin extension is expected to alleviate a traffic bottleneck on the near north-west side.

Commenting on the storm sewer construction in the central part of the city, Bues said construction crews would be working around the clock and

Funds Okayed To Renovate Mansion

MADISON (AP) — A $248,750 appropriation to renovate the governor's mansion in suburban Maple Bluff was approved today by the State Building Commission.

The only dissenting vote came from Sen. Frank Christopherson, D-Superior.

Before reaching its decision, the commission rejected two alternative proposals. One called for razing the present mansion on Lake Mendota's shore and building a new structure. The other would have required a $200,000 outlay to purchase a new home in the Highlands area on the West Side.

Mrs. Warren Knowles recommended remodeling of the present executive mansion. She said that it could be "made to function for any future governor's needs."

The governor's wife said she reached the conclusion after consultation with Mrs. John W. Reynolds and Mrs. Gaylord Nelson, the wives of the two preceding Wisconsin governors.

Knights of Columbus Set Supper, Cornroast For 6:30 p.m. Tuesday

The Knights of Columbus, Council 607, will hold a chicken barbecue and cornroast at the Columbus Club at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The cost per couple will be $3.00. Persons desiring reservations should call the Columbus Club at 3-9710: Dorothy Bodmer, 3-8646; Helen Hart, 4-7468; and Dolores Otto, 3-9341.

Deadline for reservations is Monday.

National Safety Council Ups Appleton Rating by 7 Points

City Program Wins Praise From State Motor Vehicle Officials

Appleton has received a 67-point safety program rating for 1965 from the National Safety Council, representing a significant improvement over last year's record.

That the city increased its standing by seven points in a year's time was commended Tuesday night by Walter Goepfert, Madison, a field representative for the Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department.

Goepfert formally presented the report at a common council public safety committee meeting at the city hall.

In addition to pointing out the areas in which the city showed marked improvement in its safety program, Goepfert reviewed recommendations of the National Safety Council aimed at further boosting Appleton's rating.

Little Chute Sisters Give Birth Within 24 Hours of Each Other

Two sisters from Little Chute gave birth within 24 hours of each other at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Appleton.

Mrs. Don Hermesen, 516 S. Buchanan St., gave birth to a son at 5 a.m. Tuesday. She had visited her sister Mrs. Ronald Lamers, 804½ Depot St., earlier at the hospital. Mrs. Lamers gave birth to a daughter at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

AAA Honors Appleton for Pedestrian Safety Record

The American Automobile Association (AAA) cited the City of Appleton today for having no pedestrian traffic deaths in 1964.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell and Police Chief Earl O. Wolff accepted the citation on behalf of the city at the noon meeting of the Downtown Kiwanis Club at the Conway Motor Hotel.

Appleton has had no pedestrian deaths so far in 1965.

and reaffirmed its position that angle parking should be replaced by parallel parking on College Avenue. In its report, the National Safety Council recommended there be no angle parking.

Based on Traffic Reports
The 1965 rating is based on 1964 traffic reports and other data supplied the National Safety Council by the Appleton Police Department. Last year's rating, resulting from 1963 statistics, was 60 points.

Appleton's evaluated performance, comparing the main categories of the annual report with those of the previous year, was as follows:

Death and injury record	71	100
Accident records	72	76
Traffic engineering	88	79
Police traffic supervision	48	49
Traffic courts	80	77
School traffic safety education	69	57
Public traffic safety education	54	74
Organization for traffic	57	9

Total program rating 67 60. Goepfert said there are 2 million licensed drivers in Wisconsin, including an estimated 26,000 in Appleton.

"Very Good" Gain
"The fact that Appleton increased its rating by seven points in a year is very good," Goepfert said.

"When a city registers a

The AAA pointed out in announcing Appleton's citation that the police department as well as motorists and pedestrians made the record possible.

"It is most gratifying to those of us in the motor club to note the continued emphasis that your community is placing on pedestrian safety," Maynard Schneider of the AAA said.

"You are to be commended for this effort and for the wonderful record you have achieved," city officials told.

Banta Company Objects to Site Of Expressway

Road May Interfere With Firm's Growth, Valley Planners Told

The technical advisory committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission was informed Tuesday that the proposed Tri-County Expressway may interfere with future expansion plans of the Geo. Banta Co.

George Banta Jr., president, told the committee the proposed expressway would cut across and the firm owns north of its present facilities, which it hopes to use for new plants in the future.

The proposed expressway would run midway between County Trunk P and Midway Road in the area west of State 7 where the firm has its plants.

Will Need to Expand

Banta told the committee the firm is "running out of space" and will have to build in the near future. He said it would be a serious problem for us if the proposed expressway was built in the designated area.

He warned the committee we would have to have to move," reminding the members that the firm employs 1,200 to 1,300 people.

Banta said that if the firm built new plants and the expressway was built at the designated area, the "road would cut right through the two mills."

Referred to Committee

Clarence Brownson, committee chairman, appointed a committee to study the problem and see if some solution can be found.

In other action, a committee was appointed to formulate a development plan for a section of land near the new Outagamie County Airport in the Town of Greenville. Brownson told the committee town officials had requested assistance in formulating some plan which would provide proper zoning and orderly development.

The committee recommended that funds be included in the commission's 1966 budget to provide for aerial maps of the Fox Valley.

$22 Million Okayed for New Dorms

OSHKOSH—The State Building Commission Tuesday approved a $22 million outlay for completion of a new dormitory program for the state university system.

The dormitories will be built at all nine schools and are scheduled to be completed by the fall of 1967, accommodating 6,540 students.

Dr. Robert Polk, director of long-range planning for Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, said the next dormitory planned is a 1,200-bed high rise structure similar to the one now under construction.

The site will probably be somewhere in the Algoma Boulevard area, he said. Plans for the dormitory have not been completed.

Also approved by the commission was construction of another gymnasium unit on the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin at an estimated cost of $3.8 million.

Menasha Has Signatures for Annexation

MENASHA — The city has secured the necessary signatures to its annexation petition, circulated yesterday. Mayor John Klein said today.

The signatures of six members of the Schwarzbauer property, James Lewandowski and Klein have been affixed to the petition, which will now be filed with the state director of the planning function of the State Department of Resource Development.

The annexation petition was circulated under an option in state statutes which stipulate that the owners of one-half the area involved in an annexation package sign the petition.

The Schwarzbauer property consists of 92.25 acres of the proposed 180 acre annexation corridor enough land to carry the other corridor properties along without having additional Himalayan state for weeks have been battling guerrillas who the property owners sign the petition.

The Department of Resource Development's consideration of the annexation attempt is advisory only, but the director cautions — apparently meaning rule that the proposed annexation is against the public interest.

Indians Fire Over Truce Line

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian forces in Kashmir have attacked across the cease-fire line into Pakistan-held territory, the line into Pakistan-held territory at two points, Indian Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan announced today.

Chavan told Parliament the army attacked in order to prevent further infiltration and to keep a watch on the retreat routes of infiltrators.

Indian forces in the divided Himalayan state for weeks have been battling guerrillas who the Indian government charges infiltrated from Pakistan.

Chavan said Indian forces have established new positions — apparently meaning the Indian army has seized and will attempt to hold territory of the Pakistani side.

Snyder Named To Board of Menasha Corp.

Formerly Served as Vice President of American Can Co.

MENASHA — Donald A. Snyder, 383 Lake Road, formerly vice president of American Can Co. and general manager of Marathon Division, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Menasha Corp.

A long-time employee of Marathon Corp. prior to its acquisition by American, Snyder became general manager of the division and a vice president of American in 1960, and a member of its board of directors in 1962.

He was also chairman of the boards of Marathon Corp. of Canada Limited and Marathon Southern Corp. Since October, 1964, he has been a consultant to American.

A resident of the area for 34 years, Snyder has been active in local affairs, having served as president of the Civic Music Association and Community Chest of Neenah-Menasha. He is

Record Class

The 1965-66 freshman class at Kaukauna will number 345, an all time high. An overall enrollment increase of about 100 students is anticipated for the coming year with over 2,600 students expected compared to 2,525 last year. The increase in courses have been added to the slightly less than other years or curriculum at Kaukauna High School for the 1965-66 school year while no changes were made in the elementary school program, according to Julian Bichler, school superintendent.

Some of the courses are designed for special students while others will be electives to enrich the curriculum. New subjects include related math, psychology, homemaking, physiology and health and civil technology. The latter is taught through the Vocational School.

No new construction was completed during the past year, but preliminary work has started on a new junior high and elementary school to be ready for the 1966-67 school year. The junior high will be moving out of the high school rooms due to increasing high school enrollment.

200 Student Increase

The school has been receiving about 200 more students per year, mostly in adult classes as people attempt to better themselves or interest themselves in a hobby, noted the director. He was unable to estimate the number of part-time teachers needed as this hinges on admissions which could result in dropping of proposed classes or adding classes requested by registrants.

Mrs. William Mittlesteadt has been hired to serve as home-making coordinator for the school, replacing Mrs. James McFadden who retired after serving in this capacity for almost 25 years.

Teacher meetings and in-service training sessions will get underway Aug. 25 and continue through Aug. 30. First day of classes will be Sept. 1 and adult classes will get underway Sept. 27.

Thanksgiving recess will be Nov. 25 and 26 and Christmas recess will be from Dec. 22 to Jan. 3. Adult classes vary depending on the number of hours attended each week, course content and other circumstances.

Owner of Appleton Oil Firm, Retired, Dies

Hyman Horwitz, 72, 1237 E. Frances St., owner and operator of Progress Oil Co. for 30 years, died recently at Wood Hospital, Milwaukee, after a long illness.

He retired three years ago and sold the business at Franklin and Richmond streets to another oil company.

Before coming to Appleton he operated the Horwitz Knitting Mill in Milwaukee and the Horwitz Ready-to-Wear Shop in Oshkosh.

He is survived by his widow and one daughter. A son preceded him in death.

One of the greatest advances in paint technology in years! A true LINSEED OIL paint that now permits painting in DAMP weather and over DAMP surfaces. A paint you can use EARLIER in the day, right after a rain, and even in chilly weather! It dries in just 30 minutes and is not affected by rain after this time!

All this PLUS the protection, beauty and durability of conventional linseed oil paints... PLUS the time-saving convenience of easy water cleaning of brushes, rollers, hands and clothes!

- OTHER OUTSTANDING ADVANTAGES:
- ONE COAT COVERAGE SAVES TIME AND LABOR! No primer needed on repaint work... just one coat does the job. Over new wood you need only 1 prime coat and 1 top coat!
  - FASTER, EASIER APPLICATION! Smooth self-leveling properties make it easier and faster to brush on. Can be applied even over chalky surfaces... makes thorough penetration of all paint surfaces!
  - DURABLE, LONG-LASTING FINISH. The same long-lasting attractive finish only linseed oil paint can provide. It "breathes" to resist blistering and peeling... keeps its "just painted" look for years and years!

Farmer, 90, Dies After Fall From Tractor

Nathan Shauger,
Rural Black Creek,
Victim of Mishap

BLACK CREEK — Nathan A. Shauger, 90, Town of Maine farmer who drove himself home after falling from his tractor Friday, died Tuesday at New London Community Hospital.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said death was caused by a punctured lung. Shauger died about 7 p.m.

Shauger was breaking up soil on his land when he was brushed to the ground by a tree branch. He was believed to have been injured by the disc harrow which was attached to the tractor.

Waited For Help

The main walked to a road to stop a motorist for help but no one came along. He sat in his car about 90 minutes before he drove home and bathed his injuries.

His daughter, Mrs. Arnold Burmeister, came to her father's home about 7 p.m. Friday and persuaded him to see a doctor. The doctor then ordered him to a hospital.

Shauger is a former treasurer of the Town of Maine and was a retired rural mail carrier. He lived alone at his home at route 1, Black Creek. The Muehl Funeral Home is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Astronomer Believes in Life on Mars

BEND, Ore. (AP) — Bleak photographs of Mars by the Mariner spacecraft have not discouraged one renowned astronomer from believing that life exists on the planet.

Shotaro Miyamoto, who represents Japan at the International Lunar Geographical Field Conference, said in an interview he is convinced from the photos that the environment of Mars encourages some life forms.

"Mars is not a dead world," he said.

Miyamoto said the U.S. government had made available a complete set of photos from the Mariner flight.

On at least one photo, Miyamoto said he could detect evidence of depressions which he believes are the famous canals of Mars.

He said they would be more clear if the pictures had been taken during the summer season.

Miyamoto is president of the International Lunar Society.

Appleton Youth Jailed For Falsifying ID Card

Roy Krause, 17, 835 W. Grant St., was sentenced to jail until Saturday after he pleaded guilty Tuesday to a charge of falsifying a Wisconsin identification card. He was also fined $50 and court costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

Sheriff authorities charged preparing the comprehensive plan for the city have indicated an investigation Tuesday. He the type of parking to be used was waived from juvenile court.

Must Clear Obstructions

Two Projects Delaying Winnebago Runways

OSHKOSH — Efforts are being made to close out the last two projects at the Winnebago County Airport to get federal Public Service Corp. for moving approval for the next project, power lines at the west end of the runway. Scallion said payment is being held up on a question if some of this work should have been done at the county's own expense. He said Board's aviation committee Milwaukee County is now in Tuesday, that two obstructions voked in litigation on the same must still be cleared from the thing and they are waiting to east-west runway approaches see the outcome of that case before final approval can be given.

The last two projects were the east-west runway extension and control tower construction. The east-west runway extension, started in 1960, had been estimated at $633,340. The final cost, Scallion said, was $658,330. The increase was attributed to the higher cost of power line Motor Truck Co. plant on the moving. The original estimate east and a county-owned house had been $39,000 and the final must be lowered 23 feet and the house must be removed.

The aviation committee elected to go ahead with the federal funds for the north-south chimney removal and to have runway extension will be submitted as soon as they are the house. Two years ago Oshkosh Motor Truck Co. officials had gotten estimates of about $4,500 for lowering the chimney and the installation of a forced draft blower.

Vincent Scallion, an auditor with the state aeronautics commission, told the committee runway would be extended south about 3,000 feet, requiring the projects are running about $34,300 more than original estimates. The additional money will come from the contingency fund for the projects and an extra 10 per cent from the federal government for the north

Parallel Parking Plan Okayed for Appleton

Businessmen Chided

Some College Avenue businessmen who have been fighting the proposed parking change over the years were chided by Willard Johnson, a commission member and president of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce.

"I think the businessman is considering himself when he should be considering the customer," Johnson declared. "Downtown has to be made more convenient for the people who come there to shop and do business."

Johnson said the downtown has no off-street parking problem, adding the trend has been for businesses to provide their own parking facilities for customers.

"In looking at the downtown picture, it is inviting decay and has been," Johnson said, "because the thinking of some merchants is opposite from the customer point of view."

Must Remain Hub

Johnson warned that downtown Appleton has to remain the business hub of the region, or face the consequences of having shoppers go to the outskirts to commercial centers.

W. A. Close, commission member and East College Avenue merchant, reaffirmed his position that nothing should be done with avenue parking until the street is reconstructed.

He said additional parking spaces should be provided to fill the gap when an estimated one-third will be displaced on the avenue by the new parallel system.

"I don't think we should disturb a single space," Close said.

"This commission has a clear indication of how the businessmen feel on this matter. The Retail Association of the Chamber wants no parking change made until the street project starts.

On the other hand, consultants preparing the comprehensive plan for the city have indicated the type of parking to be used on the avenue is of major importance in drawing plans for the future.

"Psychologically Wrong"

"Psychologically, it is wrong to touch a thing on the avenue until the consultants bring in their plans," Close declared.

"If you leave everything status quo on the avenue until 1967, then what?" was the reaction of Mayor Clarence Mitchell, commission chairman.

"By postponing it (the decision on changing the parking) the question is not being resolved," said Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen. Ald. MacDonald, an observer at the meeting, said the retailers would be taking the brunt of the avenue reconstruction. "Let them have what they want until the street is torn up," he said.

"Our job is to move traffic on the avenue," said Ald. Arthur E. Mueller (19th), public safety committee chairman.

Won't Start Soon

Ald. Alvin E. Tews (15th) said he would not favor making the parking changeover if the avenue construction was to start soon, but said this was not the case.

Johnson reminded the committee that 18 months ago the recommendation was made by a council committee to replace parallel on the avenue, and after the Christmas shopping season so as to not irritate businessmen.

"There already has been too much delay," said Tews. He said many people were not aware of the convenient parking at the front-to-back system.

City Receives 67-Point Safety Program Rating From Council

rating increase such as Appleton did, this is quite significant because each year the criteria is raised by the National Safety Council," Goepfert said.

He indicated on the basis of information received to date, Appleton should again show improvement in its 1966 rating. Last year there were two traffic fatalities in Appleton and 288 non-fatal injury accidents, 84 above the average reported for the preceding three years.

Ratings Reported

Some in-report percentage ratings included: Administration and procedures, 83; availability of accident records, 53; traffic administration and personnel, 84; traffic planning, 100; traffic control, 89; projects, 100; training, 82; accident investigation, 42; traffic law enforcement, 32; driver intoxication enforcement, 64; student accident reporting, 100.

The National Safety Council recommended city police should step up their enforcement.

In relation to the accidents occurring in Appleton, the number of arrests and convictions for hazardous traffic law violations were substantially increased. "The ratio of traffic contacts suggests that capacity existed for additional traffic activity by the force currently available," the report added.

Other recommendations included: That the accident records supervisor attend a special course on "Traffic Accident Records and their Uses."

At least three types of special studies be prepared and at least 85 man days be spent on these studies for engineering.

More man days be devoted to various types of traffic engineering studies and surveys and investigations.

Recommend Traffic Training

All uniformed officers should receive traffic training of at least 40 hours each, every two years.

Strengthen police action against accident violators.

Develop selective quality of enforcement in all respects.

Provide ample direction to officers in the field as to time and violation factors in the

Properties Petitioned for Zoning Change

Need Change to Facilitate Parking At Proposed YWCA

NEENAH — Two properties on W. North Water Street will be recommended for rezoning to facilitate parking for the proposed YWCA the plan commission decided Tuesday.

The petition will recommend that 202 and 208 W. North Water St. be rezoned.

If the rezoning is approved at the council's Sept. 2 meeting, plans are to start work on the new facility by Sept. 10.

The plan commission will recommend to the council the portion of Pheasant Run plat along S. Park Avenue be altered at the office of the county register of deeds.

The recommendation made to the council will be to correct an error in the original platting. Property owners along the north line of the plat will receive from nothing up to five additional feet on their property.

Pupils' Parents To Meet Faculty At Sherwood

SHERWOOD — A special registration day will be held Monday for parents of all pupils who will attend Sacred Heart School when it opens Sept. 2. Parents will meet the new faculty, Mrs. Lee Driessen and Mrs. Frank Giordana, Kaukauna, and Sisters St. Michael, Simona and Mary Leonard. Registration will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Book rental fees will be $5 a family and religious magazine fees will be $2 per pupil. Optional insurance will be available at $5 a year: $4 for 24-hour coverage during the school year or $2 during school hours. Hot lunch prices will remain the same. Families with up to two pupils will pay 25 cents a meal; three pupils, 23 cents; four, 22 cents; five, 21 cents; and six, 20 cents. Children must take lunch on a weekly basis and will not be allowed to bring their own lunch according to a new regulation. Milk will be available at 4 cents a day paid a month in advance. Classes on Sept. 2 will be

Sheltered Workshop May Build Addition

The Fox Valley Sheltered Workshop, 1325 S. Perkins St., Appleton, may build an addition to its facilities at the corner of Perkins and Leonard streets. Sauter-Seaborn Architects, acting for the shop's owners, petitioned the city for permission to construct a truck loading yard at the site. The lunch program will start Sept. 7 after the Labor Day holiday. School hours will be from 8:15 to 11:45 a.m. and from 12:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Thilmany Plans Building Jobs

Will Cover Filtrate Tanks, Enlarge Its Maintenance Shop

KAUKAUNA—Building permits have been issued the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company for two construction projects expected to cost about $70,000. Plans call for construction of a 40 by 100-foot building over four existing filtrate tanks in expansion of the present maintenance shop and addition of tanks in the brown stock washer department of the plant. The filtrate tanks are about 30 feet high. The new structure will house two 11-foot diameter Swenson washers which are about 16 feet long. Provisions square feet to the maintenance shop, half to be utilized for a pipe sheet and the second half for a sheet metal shop. The second floor office area will be 24 by 80 feet, have 2,000 square feet of floor space and house road, from the Portage County offices for maintenance line to this community, would be covered with liquid bituminous material and stone chips and gravel. The second permit is for Oscar Boldt Construction, Co., Appleton.

Waupaca Crews To Resurface State Highway

KING — Work is expected to begin Friday on a section of State 22 as Waupaca County Highway Department workmen apply an asphalt coating. The district office of the State Highway Commission in Wisconsin Rapids said 8.5 miles of highway from the Portage County line to this community, would be covered with liquid bituminous material and stone chips and gravel. The highway will be open for traffic, although traffic will be confined to one lane in areas where work is going on. Officials said the maintenance project is expected to cost $8,300.

U. S. in Muddle Over India-Pakistan Policy

By CONRAD FINK
RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Trying to be all things to all people, the United States has gotten into a diplomatic muddle in the Indian subcontinent.

A policy of equal treatment for two nations that are bitter foes has brought Washington little prestige in either India or Pakistan.

The harsh facts are these: In the past 14 years, the United States has put more than $11.6 billion of economic and military aid into Pakistan and neighboring India.

The aim was a "joint defense" against communism. Yet Pakistan today openly is voicing hostility to Washington India and Pakistan and this while rapidly strengthening ties with Communist China and other "socialist" nations.

India, at best, is scornful of American foreign policy and Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri rarely bypasses the opportunity to be critical of the way President Johnson is running the Viet Nam War.

Americans in this subcontinent are asking themselves how this happened, how almost unnoticed a "Yankee go home" movement could develop as it has here in Pakistan. Or how India could misunderstand U.S. policy in Asia.

One answer that keeps coming up among these Americans is that, from the very beginning of its involvement in the subcontinent, the United States has misunderstood the situation.

Western Solutions

First, this reasoning goes, the United States falsely assumed that bundles of dollars and the example of "the American way" somehow could make non-Asians out of the 580 million Asians in the subcontinent and somehow provide Western solutions to Asian problems.

Some Americans say the United States completely underestimated the bitterness between India and Pakistan and this inevitably doomed Washington's attempt to play both sides of the street.

There is evidence to support these points.

Both Shastri and President Ayub Khan of Pakistan are making a big pitch for influence in the Afro-Asian world, often to the detriment of this with the United States.

Neither leader has forgotten he is Asian and that his country and its problems must be viewed in the Asian context.

Ayub, at one time considered

India constantly makes it clear which almost all policy is built. Both say in effect: "Anyone who is against us." Both demand from their friends all-out support in the struggle over the Himalayan state of Kashmir.

China has bet on just one of the two bickering neighbors — Pakistan — and is moving quickly and with skill to exploit the opening offered by Pakistan's current quarrel with the United States.

Peking denounced as "shameless blackmail" Washington's revelation it was delaying new aid commitments.

This demonstration of support drew cheers in Pakistan and opened the way for greater friendship — even though the Chinese steered clear of offering to replace the American aid which now is in jeopardy.

Soviet diplomats in Pakistan are transparently anxious to exploit United States-Pakistan differences but Moscow apparently is afraid of the same trap that caught Washington.

With more than a billion dollars economic aid invested in India, the Soviet Union apparently does not dare risk offending Indians by rushing to Pakistan's side too quickly with too much.

Senate Advocates Of Foreign Aid Bill Change Won't Quit Want Two-Year Authorizations, Revamped Overseas-Aid Format

ERNEST B. VACCARO (AP) — Senate advocates of a dramatic overhaul of the program for the two-year authorization and a revamping of the overseas-aid format is certain to be renewed in the next session.

The Senate passed Tuesday night a bill to reduce the annual passage of President Johnson's $3.36-billion foreign aid authorization bill has most effective.

It got neither. Instead it got promises from the House conferees to consider a multi-year authorization next year and from the administration to recommend a longer program then. It got promises from both the administration and the House conferees to redraft the program.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said "depressing as I personally find it to ask for approval, these promises may have laid the groundwork for more thorough reforms next year."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., refused to sign the conference report and spoke for nearly three hours Tuesday in an unsuccessful attempt to get the Senate to reject it.

Morse, the author of the investigative amendment that fell by the wayside, argued that nothing less than a congressional mandate would force any change in the program.

Morse's amendment contemplated a revamped program aimed at limiting future aid to 50 countries and tightening criteria on which any aid would be provided.

The bill, as passed, carries $1,170,000,000 in military aid, the remainder in economic assistance — including loans and grants.

Johnson, Proxmire Vote for Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wisconsin Democratic senators Frank P. Ramsey and Gaylord Nelson voted with the majority today as the Senate passed a $3.36 billion foreign aid authorization bill by a 67-27 vote.

The bill, which would authorize the program for two years, and the long-authorized totals came within $10,000 of what Johnson said was the final amount that actually would be made available to fund the program will be put out in a subsequent appropriations bill providing the money.

It's what the Senate wanted for which its conferees had unsuccessfully in 14 days with House negotiators extending over two months.

A two-year authorization to the yearly struggle over aid legislation and to aid officials more time for their overseas military economic assistance programs.

Termination of the program in present form at the end of next year if financing can be arranged during the next 30 days.

American Motors, Auto Workers Fail to Find Basis of Disagreement

NOSH (AP)—The United Auto Workers strike against American Motors Corp. entered its third day today with no public agreement even on roots of disagreement.

"The time has not elapsed where we can identify the issues," said Eugene S. Mynek, a federal mediator who started separate talks with union and management negotiators Tuesday night.

Mynek, from Milwaukee, and David S. Tanzman, a federal mediator from Detroit, planned to continue discussions today, but Tanzman said no joint meetings were scheduled.

"We are probing to find ways to get the parties together," Mynek said today.

Started Monday

The strike, which began Monday over more than 100 pending grievances, has halted all production of 1966 Rambler automobiles.

More than 11,000 workers have been idled by the walkout at the two assembly plants here.

Another 5,000 workers were laid off at American Motors' body plant in Milwaukee 45 minutes after the strike began.

Tanzman said he would not "hazard a guess" how long the strike might last.

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, warned in a statement that the "effects of the dispute are inevitably having a serious impact on the economy and welfare of the community and the country."

American Motors sent its employees a letter Tuesday saying, "The issue is who is to run the plants, the management or the union."

It said union officials wanted veto authority over supervisory authority and immunity from discipline even for improper conduct.

The executive board of UAW Local 72 replied in a statement that the company was "twisting issues. We wish to make it very emphatic that in no way do we wish to manage the company. We only want what we are entitled to under our contract."

About 150 pickets maintained an all-night vigil outside the gates of the Kenosha plants. Police reported no disturbances.

Plight Getting Worse

Disintegrating Negro Family Life Threatens Race Crisis, Report Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Johnson administration officials reportedly are taking a hard new look at a confidential report warning that disintegrating Negro family life threatens a nationwide racial crisis.

The report, circulated widely among top federal officials before the Los Angeles riots, reportedly has been getting increased attention since the trouble there.

The report, made available to The Associated Press, says that despite recent civil rights legislation the social and economic plight of most Negroes appears to be getting worse instead of better, particularly in big city ghettos.

It says the root of the trouble is that three centuries of slavery and discrimination have robbed the Negro male of his sense of manhood, leading to a crumbling family structure.

Male Must Strut

"The very essence of the male animal from the bantam rooster to the four-star general is to strut," said the report. But, historically, the instincts of the American Negro male have been suppressed, it added.

"Indeed, in the 19th century America, a particular type of exaggerated male boastfulness became almost a national style. Not for the Negro male. The 'sassy nigger' was lynched," the report said.

The report, prepared by the Labor Department's Office of Policy Planning and Research and dated last March, has not been made public officially. The department gave no reason for this. Nor does it indicate whether it ever will officially release the report.

Johnson quoted extensively from it last June, however, in announcing a White House conference for November aimed at helping Negroes secure their rights.

Accepted Premise

Johnson, in citing a breakdown in Negro family structure, accepted the basic premise of the report.

"For this, most of all, white America must accept the responsibility," he said. "It flows from centuries of oppression and persecution of the Negro man. It flows from the long years of degradation and discrimination which have attacked his dignity and assaulted his ability to provide for his family."

Daniel P. Moynihan, former assistant secretary of labor for policy planning and research, helped prepare the report before he resigned to enter New York City politics.

A task force of officials of several federal agencies worked on it.

The report, still officially confidential, goes much further than depicting an alarming breakdown among Negro families.

It describes current Negro unrest as no less important than the original American revolution and says it may be crucial to whether the nations of the world eventually divide along color lines.

"It is clear that what happens in America is being taken as a sign of what can, or must happen in the world at large," the report says.

It called the Negro plight the nation's most dangerous social problem.

Illegitimate Births

In documenting the breakdown in Negro family structure, the report cites government figures showing that nearly 25 per cent of all Negro births are illegitimate, compared with about 4 per cent for whites.

Similarly, about 25 per cent of all married Negro women are divorced or separated from their husbands, compared with about 8 per cent for white women.

The report also contained a racial breakdown of armed forces mental tests, showing that 56 per cent of Negroes fail it, compared with 15.4 per cent for whites.

The armed forces test measures ability to perform at an acceptable level of competence for military life.

"It roughly measures ability that ought to be found in an average 7th or 8th grade student," the report said.

"A grown young man who cannot pass this test is in trouble," it added.

Volunteers Try to Save Rhode Island Marshes

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Twenty-six volunteers are wading through the mud of Rhode Island tidal marshes, making a free survey for the State Department of Natural Resources.

Dr. Nelson Marshall, professor of oceanography at the University of Rhode Island, is directing the volunteers, who include professors, graduate students and housewives. The survey is in line with a program to preserve the state's estimated 450 marshes.

Tsirimokos Given Chance Of Winning Greek Approval

Single Deputy Might Decide Outcome of Confidence Vote

ATHENS (AP) — Premier Elias Tsirimokos appeared today to have an even chance to win endorsement from the Greek Parliament. The confidence vote on his crisis government was expected to be so close that a single deputy might decide it.

The premier went before Parliament Tuesday night and asked for the confidence vote he must have to remain in office.

As he spoke thousands of police patrolled downtown Athens to keep order and prevent further rioting in the 41-day-old crisis. Five blocks from Parliament 10,000 supporters of ex-Premier George Papandreou held a rally but there were no disorders.

Confident of Okay

Tsirimokos, 58, said he was confident of winning the vote, expected Friday or Saturday.

Political observers were not sure he would win, but they also were not convinced that Papandreou would beat Tsirimokos, whom King Constantine Novas, whom King Constantine first named premier after firing Papandreou.

Attention today was focused on Panayiotis Cannelopoulos, recently, urging the United States to get out of Viet Nam.

"We are dealing with naked aggression, with infiltration," he said. "If we pull out we will lose face. But some of them are re-worshipping the old Tsirimokos, who founded Greece's world and they won't ever true Socialist party and was a word again."

Johnson Urges Discharge of Home Rule Bill

218 Representatives Must Sign to Get Measure to Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is looking for autographs and if he can get 218 of them the people of Washington may get to rule themselves.

The autographs the President is seeking represent a majority of the House of Representatives. Where Johnson wants them is on a seldom-used document called a discharge petition.

As the House opens for business today 112 of its members have done as the President — and the Democratic leadership — asked.

In Committee

One by one they had gone to the well of the House and, by signing the document kept in a drawer to the right of Speaker John W. McCormack's desk, acted to pry the D.C. home rule bill from the District of Columbia Committee.

If 218 sign — there is no time limit — it won't matter what the Southern-oriented Rules Committee thinks of Washingtonians ruling themselves.

If they sign by the end of this week, the home rule bill can come to the House floor Sept. 13, its chances bright for becoming law before Congress adjourns.

Strong Opponent

Chairman John L. McMillan, D-S.C., of the District Committee is among the strongest opponents of home rule. He argues it is unconstitutional, but backers of the proposal disagree with his contention that Congress has the exclusive legislative power under that document.

With Negroes making up a majority of Washington's population, racial factors figure in the argument.

Woman, Found Insane After Killing Children, Released From Hospital

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Milwaukee woman found innocent by reason of insanity in the fatal shooting of her three children was ordered released Tuesday from Winnebago State Hospital where she had been under treatment since 1962.

Circuit Judge Herbert J. Stefes ruled Mrs. Johnette Golden, 30, legally sane after hearing testimony by two psychiatrists. One of them was among three psychiatrists who testified at Mrs. Golden's 1962 commitment hearing.

Mrs. Golden's children, Nicholas, 6; Ransom, 18 months, and Quillie, 6 months, were shot to death June 3, 1961.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Your wife does. Your neighbors do. Your customers do, too.
 Because only print lets them clip and save. Cut out and file. Study and compare. Read and re-read.
 Only print shows off color, style, beauty and appetite appeal to their very best advantage.
 Which is why so many people look to print especially when they're really in a mood to buy.

Or sell.

Aren't your competitors taking advantage of print, for example?

And shouldn't you?

Print makes sense, because print makes sales.

Maryland Cafe Owner Now Serves Negroes

By JOHN WOODFIELD
CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Robert Fehsenfeld put down his paint brush, climbed down from the step ladder and hitched up his trousers.
"My opinion hasn't changed, but I guess I'll have to go along with the way things are," he said as he lit a cigarette and leaned against the wall of the apartment he was redecorating just over his restaurant.
It had been two years since the restaurant owner was catapulted into the news by a picture of himself throwing water into the face of a white civil rights demonstrator who was kneeling on the sidewalk in front of his segregated snack bar.
Shortly after the incident he was quoted as saying that "it was disgusting. I was wrong. It makes me feel very little, less than a man."
He disavowed this in a recent interview.
"I said I was sorry the demonstrators forced me into it," he said. "I never said I was sorry for what I did."
"My theory about outside agitation still stands," he said.

"The only group stirring up trouble here now is these outsiders from California and Alabama. They come in with the sole purpose of trying to stir things up. They don't care about the Negroes."
Cambridge was under militia law and National Guard control for months after demonstrations during the summer of 1963 exploded in violence.
For more than a year racial peace has prevailed, but recently a few demonstrators, most of them from out of state, have tried to integrate a swimming pool which the Justice Department ruled is a private club and not subject to the Civil Rights Act.
"So far, I've been a good boy about serving Negroes in his restaurant known as "Dizzyland," Fehsenfeld continued. "I think my reputation has been well-established along that line."
"But when these beatniks—at least that's what I call 'em—want to come in and sit down with decent people, well, I don't think you'd want them in your home."
"I've served a number of Negroes without incident. I'll serve anyone who comes in dressed decently and acting right."
"They object to my signs that 'We reserve the right to refuse service to anyone at any time,' but they're going to stay up. When they come in to eat, that's one thing; but when they come in to make trouble, that's another," Fehsenfeld said.

The restaurant owner refused to serve Negroes until the Civil Rights Act was passed. His restaurant was a prime target of demonstrators in 1963.
Fehsenfeld, 44, says he thinks the "races should be separated in many cases, but that doesn't make me a segregationist."
"You know, a lot of the whites who make the most noise about integration are the ones who crats and Republicans look too much alike now."

But I haven't seen any of these do-gooders nominate a Negro for membership in the country club or yacht club," he said.
Politically, Fehsenfeld says he is disenchanted with both the Democrats and the Republicans.
He said he'd like to see Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.
"Gov. Wallace is still my idol," he said.
How does Fehsenfeld view the racial picture in Cambridge today?
"People haven't changed any," he said. "They're the same as they were five or 10 years ago."
"You can't free people with laws. People are only as free as they are in their souls."
"Me? I wish I were free."

Bizzare War Mixes Bombs With Western

Soldiers Enjoy Cavalry-Indian Fight As Own Battle Rages

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

DAK PEK, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bizarre, bewildering war—

At this remote Special Forces camp near the Laotian border we had just settled down to watch a movie called "Two Rode West" screened on a bed-sheet suspended from the back of a 2½-ton truck.

The cavalry was getting the better of the Comanches and the Montagnard soldiers sitting on their haunches at our feet had begun to take umbrage at the color outrages unfolding on the screen. The Montagnards, an aboriginal type people, are always on the side of the Indians when American Westerns are shown.

Suddenly off to our left, just beyond the screen, the velvet black sky came alive with flares that turned the jungle night into gaudy day.

"Dak Sut is under attack!" S. Sgt. Ronald T. Perdue of Lake Wales, Fla., shouted, running up sheet suspended from the back of a sand-bagged radio bunker.

In brilliant flashes of light and pounding peals of explosives, the attack on Dak Sut, a Special Forces camp 10 miles to the east, unfolded before our eyes and echoed in our ears. The projector stopped and the semicircle of viewers turned their attention to the pyrotechnics flashing over the next mountain.

A big green moon rode over the dark green hills just as the first strike of bombers droned overhead and began dropping their payloads in the Viet Cong-infested caves and ridges around the camp under attack.

The radioman kept us apprised of the attack in terse bulletins:

"The district house is burning."

"They've just set fire to the district town."

"They're being hit by mortars and recoilless rifles."

Slow-dropping flares, constant explosions, glows like flashes of summer lightning amid the dull rumble of thunder, the endless drone of the bombers, made our own camp guard tense and itchy fingered.

Set Off Flares

Twice the alert sounded, sending us down to the sandbagged bunkers as the guard units on the hills surrounding our camp opened up with automatic weapons and small arms. Overhead our own flares were set off, illuminating the camp.

It may have been a dog chasing a deer through the thick bushes. Whatever it was, each round of fire set the next hill to firing.

When this died down, it was decided to go ahead with the movie. The new sound effects of the distant attack coupled with the constant glow of flares and flash of bombs gave the movie a dimension Hollywood never dreamed of.

Toward the end of the third reel, just as James Stewart was having a massive confrontation with Richard Widmark, the sky out beyond the screen ignited with a terrific series of explosions that lit up the sky.

"They've hit the artillery dump, that's 105 shells going up!" someone shouted.

Light Storm

All night long the bombers droned overhead. The moon hid its face, rain pelted down in slanted sheets and still the bombers came. The hills growled with real thunder as well as the thunder of the battle. Strike after strike of bombers moved above the clouds, led by the little single-engined spotter planes.

At 4 a.m. word came that the Americans and Vietnamese were pulling out of Dak Sut and moving into the jungles along prearranged escape routes.

In leaving, the defenders set off their ammunition, burned their gasoline supplies, touched off their grenades. The Viet Cong overrunning the camp must have found only a burning mountain, or so it appeared from our vantage point.

Sgt. L. C. John Robbirds of Sneads, Fla., and S. Sgt. James Waits of Fort Worth, Tex., had the best view of the attack on Dak Sut. They were atop a mountain, coming back to our camp from a seven-day patrol along the Ho Chi Minh trail.

All Quiet

"It was quite a show," said Robbirds later. "The firing went on all night. You don't often see that much firepower going on all at once. The VC must have paid heavily for that little piece of rural real estate."

Professional soldiers talk in those matter of fact terms, but even professional soldiers, or perhaps professional soldiers most of all, cheer the deliverance of their buddies in trouble.

When the word came that the Americans from Dak Sut had been picked up by helicopters, the neighboring camp at Dak Pek broke out the case of beer it had been hoarding for just such a special occasion.

Crisis Dims Future of Greek Kings

Critics Blame Royal Family for Creating Own Troubles, Fuss

By PHILIP DOPOULOS
ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The longer the Greek crisis remains unsolved, the darker the shadows that hover over the monarchy's future in this Mediterranean land with a history of political unrest.

Critics increasingly have been blaming the royal family for creating its own troubles—a typical fuss, which most Greeks love.

The crisis started July 15 and steadily has been turning against the Greek monarchy—just as King Constantine, 25, was attempting to build a more relaxed atmosphere around his palace.

The cause of the sudden turn of events against the young monarch and his Danish-born wife, Queen Anne-Marie, lies deep under the surface and goes back more than a century.

Danish Prince
A Danish prince was installed as Greece's king by the 19th century European powers in an attempt to bring some measure of stability to the restless Greeks.

The present king has no Greek blood, and neither did his predecessors. All Greek kings marry foreigners. The 18-year-old Danish princess whom Constantine married last September brought hope of a bright new era for the royal family.

It almost erased memories of the past 17 years, when Constantine's mother, the controversial Queen Mother Frederika, reigned along with his father, the late King Paul.

She has long been a target of left wingers because of her German origin and membership in the Nazi youth movement as a young princess in Germany. She often was accused of mixing in Greek politics and using her personality and charm on politicians for the benefit of the throne.

Brought Crisis
Rightists accused Frederika of being responsible for creating the political crisis in May 1963 when King Paul forced Constantine Caramanlis to resign as premier. Eventually that crisis brought George Papandreou and his Center Union party into office.

Papandreou and King Constantine argued over armed forces control and the young king fired him.

Many liberals want a republican form of government for this country of 8.5 million population. They contend that a monarchy has no place in Greece in this day and age.

It is unlawful to criticize publicly the Greek royal family, but demonstrators in Athens and in key cities of the country since the Papandreou firing have shouted antiroyalty slogans.

Crying in Streets
The cries intensified until last week many shouted in the streets: "Constantine, take your mother and leave!"

Under normal conditions these people would be sentenced to prison. But the situation is so tense that police, powerless to stop antimonarchy demonstrators encouraged by followers of the pro-Communist United Democratic left party, do not want to provoke further antagonism.

The crown considers the party the most serious threat to its existence. It appears that Papandreou, in his bid to regain power, also has condoned well-organized street demonstrations.

The demonstrations have drawn crowds crying out against the crown and screaming Papandreou's name in an effort to bring down a government appointed by the palace.

Papandreou has said that he has nothing personal against the king and that the quarrel is "strictly political."

Never Papandreou
Constantine has indicated he will never reappoint Papandreou premier again—even with his back to the wall.

Constantine and his political advisers are trying to stay clear of new elections for the time being, fearing that Papandreou may be re-elected and create an even greater crisis for the Greek monarchy.

The king may also be thinking of history. Papandreou, in another political fuss exactly 30 years ago, joined a movement that ousted Constantine's grandfather, King Constantine, during World War I.

Although It May Be Uncharitable to call a lady a booze hound, the fact remains that Miltzi, a cocker spaniel, is darned fond of a sip of beer. Her owners, the George Ahern family, Indianapolis, report she can be quite persistent in begging for the last few drops of an emptied beer bottle. (AP Wirephoto)

Nun Defies Order To Close Animal Shelter in Canada

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Mother Cecilia Mary has defied a second order from the Roman Catholic Church to abandon her animal shelter. Her bishop said this leaves the next move up to the Vatican.

"The Church has no authority to close the shelter," said Mother Cecilia, 76, who runs the shelter on a farm on the outskirts of Victoria. "They don't own the land and I will not give up unless I die."

Mother Cecilia, superior of a nursing home, set up the shelter in 1954 with money inherited from her father.

"It's just a bit of a bluff," she said of the order. "The bishop doesn't like the sisters doing the work and he wants to close it, but we will carry on because there isn't anybody else to do it." She was speaking of the Most Rev. Remi De Roo, bishop of Victoria.

Vacation Menus Easy on the Cook

This easy supper consists of kabobs made with canned luncheon meat, scalloped potatoes made with mix and cooked in an electric skillet, tossed vegetable salad using canned vegetables, lettuce, and prepared dressing. Watermelon is served for dessert.

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Vacation time should be a time for fun, everyone will agree but sometimes it becomes a chore for those who must prepare three meals a day. It seems that during a vacation at the lake or on a camping swing those appetites become sharper and full-bodied. Which of course calls for some planning to save the energy of the cook . . . or cooks when the chores are divided up . . . so that a minimum of time is spent a-cooking and a maximum a-vacationing without anyone going hungry.

Since a reader recently suggested that full menus might be in order rather than isolated recipes . . . a sort of round-up of what goes with which . . . this might be a good place to start. Especially since vacation menus can be quite easy once they are planned and based on foods easy to prepare . . . not overlooking those convenience foods in cans, packages and the multitude of mixes.

An excellent guide for families-on-the-go who plan to eat outdoors at waysides and parks . . . and for lakeside vacationers . . . there's a new book out called "Travel Fair." By noted cookbook author Betty Wason, this inexpensive pocket-size book published by Random House is chock-full of short-cuts and ideas.

When packing for a vacation to be spent at a summer cottage, Miss Wason recommends taking along favorite kitchen utensils to supplement the always limited facilities of a cottage. Here the electric skillet will come in handy. With a heavy-duty extension cord, it can even be used for outdoor cooking. It's worth packing and squeezing into the travel space.

Also consider these items . . . favorite barbecue tools . . . pet spices and herbs to which your family has become accustomed

For excellent picnic fare, grill bananas right along with ham and cheese in neat foil packages. This type of lunch is easy to make at home or on the spot.

Spartan Spaghetti and Italian Green Salad are quick to prepare and convenient to serve. When offered with garlic bread tall glasses of iced tea and canned fruit dessert, it's delicious fare for a lazy summer day or any other day.

At the left is an uncomplicated one-dish Southern dinner geared to vacation days. It consists of chicken, canned Louisiana yams and mint-topped coffee. The whole meal can be prepared quickly and coolly.

Pair Weds In Double Ring Rite

KAUKAUNA — Miss Pauline Vanden Bosch and William P. Garvey exchanged wedding vows at 10 a.m. today at St. Nicholas Catholic Church, Freedom. The Rev. Alfred Heitpas officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Vanden Bosch, route 1, Kaukauna. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Garvey, route 1, Kaukauna.

Miss Mary Ellen Garvey, DePere, attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Roskum and Mrs. Leo Heitpas. Miss Joan Garvey acted as junior bridal aide.

Serving as best man was Jerome Smith. Robert Vanden Bosch and Leo Heitpas assisted as groomsmen. Ushering duties were shared by Lloyd Gehring and Dennis Roskum.

A wedding reception was held at Romy's Nitegale Ballroom. The couple will reside at route 1, Kaukauna, after a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, Wyo.

Mrs. Garvey is employed at Zwicker Knitting Mills, Appleton. Her husband is with the Wisconsin Wire Works, Appleton.

Fall Plaids Brighten Shirt Scene

Come fall, come football and fractions — and though some boys may admit it only grudgingly, the start of the new school year has a special excitement. Along with facts and figures, there is swapping summer adventures with old friends and a new wardrobe to replace the one outgrown. Though they grumble about dressing up, boys do enjoy new clothes.

Replenishing a boy's wardrobe usually starts with shirts and in a crisp, clean shirt any boy can pass muster, even if he did forget to wash behind his ears.

Permanent Crease
A new group of colorful, comfortable, well-cut sports shirts just out are sure to get every boy's resounding approval. And busy mothers will appreciate their carefree qualities for they are made of a 100-per cent cotton cloth with a new permanent press process that is crease-proof and needs absolutely no ironing. The shirts are precision of the new math, the machine washable and even convertible-collared shirts are when tumble-dried, still emerge available in a range of favorite colors. Older brother's the Textile Dye Institute quality checked shirt comes in red, colorfast fabrics can be washed blue, green and black with along with other white and white; his younger side-kick's in colored clothes with no fear of red, blue or green plaid. And the vat-dyed colors will stay color change. Checked and plaided with the bright for the life of the shirt.

Use Colorful Rugs As Wall Hangings
Carpets are not restricted to the floor. Ancient Persians used them as wallhangings centuries ago. And, today, decorators are discovering anew that colorful carpet textures can contribute unusual design interest to plain wall surfaces, as well as important acoustical benefits. A novel application of carpet is seen in a child's room featuring bright red carpeting. A leftover piece of the carpet was affixed to the door of the room and studded with oversize brass nailheads for a striking decorative note, and an effective sound barrier to boot!

Ann Tells Writer That Cancer Can't be Cured by Psychiatry

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You seem to believe in psychiatry, which is nothing more than talking people out of mental illness. If this can be done successfully, why can't people be talked out of cancer?

Before you say it's impossible, may I tell you I've known for a long time that an illness begins in the mind. If the mind is healthy, the body is healthy. Even psychiatrists say a sick mind can make a well person sick. So why can't a well mind make a sick person well?

There seems to be a lot of foundation money around for research. Can you help me obtain a grant for this project? It could save millions of lives. Thank you. — True Believer

Dear Believer: Sorry, I have no influence over foundation money. You are correct when you say a sick mind can make a well person sick. A prominent Minnesota physician estimates that over 60 per cent of the patients in hospital beds today are there because of illnesses which began with an emotional problem.

Cancer, however, is defined as the uncontrolled multiplication of cells. Many cancers, when discovered early, have been destroyed or removed and the patients' lives were saved. Psychiatry, which has to do with the exploration and ventilation of emotional problems, cannot stop cancerous cells from multiplying.

Some cancers have been known to disappear. Such cancers were self-limiting which means the body had set up its own immune reactions.

(The quacks have a ball with these cases.) Such phenomena have been explained by medical science and are not "out of the blue miracles," so please don't write and tell me about Aunt Matilda who was cured of cancer by hocus focus.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Several days ago my husband and I had dinner in the home of a friend. For dessert this woman served a delicious banana pie. When I asked her for the recipe she replied, "I'm sorry but it took me a lifetime to collect my recipes and I don't give them out."

I felt as if I had been slapped across the face. I have not spoken to this woman since and I'm not inviting her to a party we are giving next month. My husband says I'm behaving like a child. We want your opinion. — N. J.

Dear N. J.: The woman is not depriving you of something to which you are entitled. The recipe is hers and she told you she didn't wish to share it.

She is a better friend than the babes who don't want to share their recipes but don't have the nerve to admit it and then double an ingredient here and there or leave something out.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a prominent business man and I work as his secretary. His son by a former marriage comes to the office at least twice a week and walks by me without even speaking. It is apparent that his mother has done a thorough job of poisoning his mind against me.

The boy's father has taken care of all his college expenses, bought him clothes and a car. I feel that I have contributed, too, since I work in my husband's business.

This whole ugly situation has come to a head because the boy is being married next month. My husband has been invited to the wedding. I have not.

Some of my friends say I should go to the wedding with my husband as a matter of principle. What do you say? — Number Two

Dear Number: No principle is served if you show up at an affair to which you have not been invited. The "friends" who are urging you to crash the wedding are looking for a little excitement at your expense. Stay home.

Do you lean on cigarettes as a social crutch? You may regret it later. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

it will take more than ordinary. The best treatment follows: hand lotion to get them back in. Use a mild toilet soap to shape. Please advise."

The Answer: Work-scarred, often: rinse well and gently dry. hands are injured hands in the After cleansing, smooth on a true sense, with invisible cuts/first aid cream or medicated and hardened flakes. First and lotion. Such products contain:

antiseptic, analgesic and moisturizing agents. The combination helps to reduce soreness, promote healing and restore natural moisture.

Once the hands are completely mended, switch from the treatment product to a conventional hand lotion or cream. And be faithful to applications. If the knuckles are still a bit discolored, and they well may be, bleach them with a mixture of toilet soap and lemon juice or hydrogen peroxide. Simply lather up and then swab on the bleach.

Lastly, resolve to guard your hands from harm in the future!

Don't Lead Away From Strength

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and cast about for a way to lead clubs from the dummy West's takeout double indicated shortness in clubs, and East's response of one notrump indicated club length and strength

South properly led a low spade toward dummy's queen West stepped up with the king of spades and returned the queen of diamonds to South's king.

Now South led a spade to dummy's queen and returned a club. East shrewdly played low, and South won with the queen. West's spade discard revealed the bad trump break

Continues Plan

South could not afford to continue the clubs from his own hand, for then East would get three club tricks South had to continue his plan of leading clubs from the dummy

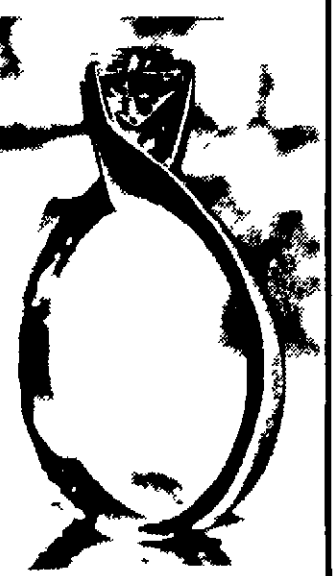

Since the only way to get to dummy was to ruff a spade. South led his ace of spades and ruffed it in dummy. Then he led dummy's last club through East!

This cautious line of play assured the contract East had to step up with the king of clubs, allowing South to play a low trump from his own hand. When East returned a heart, South ruffed and led the jack of clubs to force out the ace.

East returned another heart, but South's trumps lasted. He ruffed and led the ten of clubs to draw East's last trump. There was no further problem.

Feustal Family Reunion Held

MANAWA — Approximately 10 relatives attended the second annual Feustal family reunion Sunday at Bear Lake. A pot luck lunch was served at noon and games were played during the day.

The family's third reunion has been scheduled for Aug. 7, 1966. Composing the committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Earl Feustal, Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schultz, New London; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kottke, Manawa; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roepke, New London; and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hahn, Manawa.

Members attending the reunion were from Milwaukee, Oshkosh, New London, Royalton, Appleton, Waupun, Weyauwega, Edgerton, Stevens Point, Poy Sippi, Horicon, Green Bay and Manawa.

Free-Form Bathtub Gives Comfort

Bathtub production has finally caught up with the "middle age" spread. There is now on the market a bathtub with a "sit down" end that is wider than the other for "roomy bathing comfort." The idea is somewhat similar to the free-form custom ceramic tile tubs that are used in increasing numbers in today's homes. Instead of being shackled by a set pattern, free-form tile tubs can be formed in any size or shape, whether round, elliptical or with one wide end for "roomy bathing comfort."

covered, take a needle and double thread and stitch through center to reverse side. Bring needle across to gathered edges, take a stitch and secure snugly. Place cardboard between the two bound circles of fabric, then pin the cushion on top. Stitch through all layers at center, attaching them together. Insert elastic through spools. Place them between the cardboard and top circle. Then take a tiny safety pin and pin the two loose ends together. You can tack them together instead, but pinning will make it easier to replace empty spools of thread. Next, hand-tack bound edges together between spools so that your finished kit looks like the illustration.

The Ailing House Paint Roller Can be Used For Wire

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q Can a paint roller be used to paint a wire fence?

A: Certainly. In fact, I find it much faster than a brush and, about as fast as a spray. Be sure to get a roller with long fibers so they'll wrap around the wires as you go along.

Then you'll only need to travel one side, except for possible touchups here and there.

Q In the past few weeks, the hot water pipe has begun to rumble and cause vibration each time it's turned on. Can you tell me what causes this? Is it dangerous?

A Your description sounds as though some of the supports for the horizontal length of pipe have begun to work loose, so they no longer hold the pipe firmly.

Tightening the supports, adding a few more, or jamming some packing between the supports and the pipe should restore the former silence. However, I suggest your calling in a plumber, just to be sure.

DAMP BREEZEWAY FLOOR

Q On warm, humid days the concrete floor of our breezeway leading to the garage develops a film of dew, which can be somewhat slippery. Is this due to dampness rising from the ground?

A I doubt it very much. It's much more apt to be condensation. This forms on any cool surface when warm, damp air comes in contact. Either make the concrete surface safer by roughening it, put down a non-skid covering, or consider another layer of concrete which is not trowelled smooth.

Cost of Living in Los Angeles Varies With Personal Wants

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:

On the recommendation of a cousin in Boothbay, Me., I am writing to ask if you would tell me something of the cost of living in Hollywood, Calif.

What would two people, living quietly, in an apartment with living room and two bedrooms, and with car, expect to spend a year?

Thank you for any help you can give me.

L.S., East Grinstead, Sussex, England

Your question leads right into a subject that concerns an increasing number of people these days: What does it cost for a couple to live "quietly"—the word quietly often meaning "on a retirement income."

As for cost-of-living figures in the particular locale you mention, I can cite estimates based on the Bureau of Labor statistics—adjusted for the increase in our consumer price index to bring them up-to-date. However, it is important to remember that your level of living is based on the amount of money you spend—whereas your standard of living is the way you feel you must live! They can add up to two entirely different sums.

The following estimates simply indicate what can be done in the Greater Los Angeles area. These costs assume that a couple lives in a two-or-three room rental and provides their own furnishings. Also, that wife will do most of the housework, and that food allowance is based on an average of the low and moderate food cost plans estimated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Car transportation is included. The Round Figures

Tell Troth of Miss Dewey, J. E. Bertram

KIMBERLY — The betrothal of Miss Donna Lee Dewey to Jerral Edward Bertram was announced by her parents at a dinner in Milwaukee Friday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Dewey, 223 W. Kimberly Ave. Mr. Bertram is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bertram, Hobbs, N. M.

Miss Dewey is a recent graduate of Milwaukee County General Hospital School of Nursing. She will be employed at the University Hospital, Madison, where she will continue her studies. Her fiancé, a graduate of the University of Houston, Houston, Texas, is a mechanical engineer with Allis-Chalmers, Milwaukee.

A summer wedding is planned by the couple.

Yearly Cost Monthly Cost
Housing	$ 960 $ 80
Household Operating	278 23
Food	1000 84
Clothing	240 20
Personal Allowance	132 11
Contributions,
Gifts, etc.	168 14
Medical	408 34
Recreation	120 10
Transportation,
Car cost	648 54
Total	$3960 $330

Keep in mind that spending is influenced greatly by the local conditions and customs, wherever you live. In some cities, transportation includes major use of public facilities. In others, you hop in the car just to go round the corner. The West, in particular, is a "country on wheels," with car costs a substantial item. Somehow you fall into the pattern of the particular area in which you live, either through necessity or choice. And this can drastically rearrange your budget.

For the benefit of you other couples who are thinking about settling down in a new part of the country, remember that the cost of goods and services varies from city to city, just as transportation costs do. The climate and type of clothes your new neighbors wear can affect your spending. Eating habits often change, too, with a change of locale. You discover local recipes along with the more easily available types of foods. Cost of utilities can vary as much as $5 or $6 a month. Availability of low-cost or free medical services can mean a lot in estimating your expenses. And the cost of housing, of course, runs up and down the scale, depending not only on the part of the country you choose to live in, but the specific neighborhood.

It sometimes happens that a couple will actually have more to live on in retirement than they have been accustomed to. This increase may be due to an inheritance or to the conversion of holdings into cash. It's well to remember that as income rises, the proportion of total expenditures spent for food and clothing usually declines. But the total amount allocated for other goods and services can continue to rise.

Neuman Family Holds First Reunion Sunday

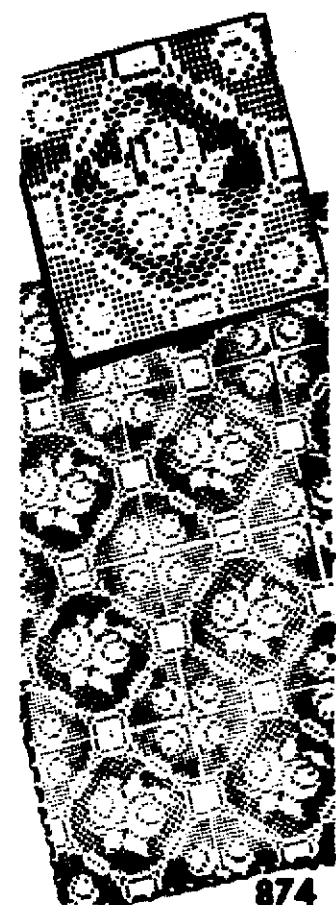

HORTONVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Laabs and Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Doell were co-chairmen of the first reunion of the Neuman family held Sunday at Hortonville Commercial Club Park.

Thirty-four families were present and elected Gilbert Laabs, route 2, Hortonville, president; Mrs. Doell, route 1, Appleton, secretary-treasurer, and Leo Zahn, Shawano, vice president. Mr. and Mrs. William Selle will plan the entertainment for the reunion next year, the fourth Sunday in August.

Mrs. Willard Laabs, New London; Mrs. Bernard Jensko, Marion, and Mrs. Gilbert Laabs will gather the family history and present it next year.

Today's Etiquette

WORRY NO MORE

Dear Louise: Will you please advise me whether or not I goofed in my manners. I attended a wedding and in going out of the church I greeted the bride and bridegroom with a laugh with them and at your kiss and shook hands with the self.

bride's parents. But the bridegroom's parents were standing some distance back so I forgot to greet them. Well, the bridegroom's father is my own son! Was my mistake very serious? I am worried because it was quite an elaborate affair.

Please worry no longer about your goof. Like all of us, your son and his wife are human and know that we make silly and unintentional boo boos. They know that you weren't slighting them. You were just excited and it's quite likely that they didn't even notice it in their own excitement. No doubt you conversed with them after they left the receiving line. Your act wasn't offensive at all because you meant no offense. Just "fess up" and tell them that you lost your poise. I'm sure they will laugh, then you will kiss and shook hands with the self.

N. Viet Nam Stricken With Economic Ills

Hanoi Insists U. S.
Bombings Failed
To Do Any Damage

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Communist North Viet Nam is severe economic aches and pains from the war in the South and U.S. air action against northern territory.

The United States is listening to hints from Hanoi of any shift in its all-or-nothing demands on half of the Viet Cong in the South. Evidently North Viet Nam's economy hurts badly, and a change in its attitude because of that cannot be exclud-

Hanoi insists the U.S. bombings have failed to damage its economy, but for the past five months its internal propaganda has belied this claim. The big question is whether Hanoi, in exchange for cessation of the bombings, would support a peace in the South to permit negotiations.

The United States pours $2.5 million to $3 million daily into the war.

Niggardly Aid
President Ho Chi Minh's government seems to regard the aid it has been getting from the Communist world as niggardly.
It has advised its public to "do away with the mentality of relying on foreign assistance" and to promote industry, plain living and thriftiness.

Premier Pham Van Dong told the National Assembly last April: "We must rely mainly on our own resources while doing our best to win the sympathy and assistance of the world's people, first of all the fraternal socialist countries."

Since then, the squeeze probably has become more painful.
Figures on the cost of the war in North Viet Nam are lacking.
Communists do not discuss such things openly. Red regimes preferably chip in to sustain Havi's defenses or help finance the Viet Cong.

Red China gives no figures on aid to Hanoi. Moscow in June said it had invested the equivalent of $350 million in the Hanoi regime, apparently all in economic aid. That was before U.S. bombings in the North.
Since then Moscow presumably tallied costly missile sites.
Other communist countries promised help, but no announcements have been made what, if anything, was delivered.

North Viet Nam's own accounts and reports published in Viet, European and other Communist papers try to present the bright side, but conn lines like these:

Strikes at Noon
"As the heaviest air strikes usually occur at noon, in most enterprises the working time has been divided into two parts, starting in early morning with a long break during the day and continuing again in the evening.
Many enterprises now employ 50 per cent women, who replace men gone into the army. The education of children and elderly proceeds according to plan.
Although certain things had to be rationed, such as rice, meat, sugar, cotton material, speculation and blackmarketing is non-existent."

Evidently transport has been damaged and industrial production somewhat disrupted. Expansion of the war to the North means also to have badly damaged food and consumer goods production.

Hanoi has made no announcement about increased taxes or other measures to finance war expenditures. In fact, it claims it has even been able to lower consumer prices. The evidence is that Hanoi is trying to pay its way by total mobilization and belt-tightening measures.

North Viet Nam suffered losses from floods and typhoons in 1954. Now it has met new difficulties in mobilizing men and women to train for possible fighting, draining needed manpower from food and industry production.

The government has indicated it had difficulty meeting food requirements, saying it just managed to meet part of the requirements to insure supplies of equipment to goods and consumer industries.

The government mounted a campaign to enroll women to replace "men who have gone to the front." It ordered measures to insure adequate supplies of manpower and resources for fighting duties and economic development, which it said could be done "only on the basis of raising production."

Mobilization has seemed fairly complete. It includes army, militia, guerrillas, self-defense corps, and rear forces.
All this is extremely costly.

"We are facing heavy tasks in the field of production and fighting, a greatly increased volume of work and rising demands in manpower," a recent government announcement told the North Vietnamese.

A search for easy nutritious menus that also fit the good eating pattern brought up a lazy-day dinner from the deep South: a hearty but quick barbecue meal fashioned all from mixes, canned foods and prepared foods, using skillet and barbecue grill... an inside or porch meal from convenience foods... and a delightful foil packet meal that can be whipped up in a hurry on the trail, in the kitchen or on the beach.

MENU I

Here is the first menu suggested for an easy family barbecue meal: Luncheon meat kabobs combined with squares of green pepper and pineapple wedges and brushed with barbecue sauce, escalloped potatoes made with mix and cooked in an electric skillet, tossed vegetable salad using canned vegetables, watermelon for dessert.

Frozen vegetables also may be used. Wrap them in foil and cook in the ashes of the fire while the meat is being barbecued.

To make the salad, toss drained canned vegetables with lettuce and prepared salad dressing.

MENU II

The second menu goes like this, remembering of course, that substitutions can be made to change or vary a basic menu such as this: Vegetable juice; cocktail; Spartan Spaghetti; Parmesan cheese; Italian Green Salad; Hot Garlic Bread; Iced Tea; Double Fruit Dessert.

Along with this menu is an appetizer dip which may be used for late evening snacking as well as an hors d'oeuvre.

SPARTAN SPAGHETTI

1 pound hot sausage meat
1/2 pound lean ground beef
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 eggs
2 tablespoons olive oil or salad oil
2 cans (1 lb. each) spaghetti in tomato sauce
2 tablespoons Chianti or other dry red wine

Combine sausage meat, ground beef, olives, green pepper and slightly beaten eggs. Form into small balls and brown in oil. Drain off excess fat. Combine meat balls with spaghetti and stir in Chianti. Heat. Recipe makes eight servings.

ITALIAN GREEN SALAD

1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 can or jar (1 lb.) carrots
1 medium onion
1 can (2 oz.) anchovy fillets
1 can (4 oz.) green chiles
1 small head Boston lettuce
1 head iceberg lettuce
1 head romaine

Combine vinegar, oil, salt and pepper; mix with drained carrots, sliced onion separated into rings, chopped anchovies and chopped chiles. Chill for an hour or more. Break greens into bite sized pieces; just before serving toss carrot mixture with greens. Recipe makes eight servings.

DOUBLE FRUIT DESSERT

Double Fruit Dessert takes almost no fixing. Blend a little cinnamon and nutmeg into a cup canned apple sauce. Add a pound can of drained apricot halves and heat. Serve over hot split biscuits and pass a pitcher of cream. Six servings.

SUMMER APPETIZER

For the latest in hors d'oeuvre dips, prepare Summer Appetizer. Mix a cup dairy sour cream with one-fourth cup catsup and some finely chopped onion. Arrange canned shrimp and cubes of avocado (dipped in lemon juice) around the dip. Recipe makes 50 to 55 appetizers.

MENU III

Southerners who live with humid weather do not give up favorite foods during the summer. They have a different approach to food, one that may be borrowed with ease by vacationing Northerners. The rule is to serve meals in simple ways such as a one-plate main meal and to do all the hot cooking in the cool of the morning.

So here's a Southern idea: Chicken prepared in the morning and refrigerated until mealtime. Saucy Southern Yams: Iced Coffee with Minute Mint Topping, chilled melon for dessert.

OVEN-BAKED CHICKEN

This is a favorite of mine (Northern) because it's been successful for many seasons of cottage vacationing. Have chicken parts all prepared. Rub with butter or oil, season with seasoned salt. Place in shallow baking pan or perhaps two pans so as not to crowd the chicken pieces. Place two strips of bacon (or half strips) crisscross over each chicken piece. Bake in 250-degree oven until chicken is tender. This is a fine way to prepare chicken while the family (including the cook) is out canoeing, water-skiing or swimming. The chicken never burns, never over cooks and it stays moist until the family shows up to sniff the tantalizing aroma.

SAUCY SOUTHERN YAMS

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup firmly-packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange peel

1/2 cup orange juice
2 cans (1-pound each) Louisiana yams, drained
1/2 cup chopped peanuts
1/2 cup raisins

Melt butter, add sugar, orange peel and juice, mix well. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, 15 minutes. Recipe makes four servings.

MINUTE MINT TOPPING

1 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon mint extract
Chilled double-strength coffee with chicory

Whip cream, gradually adding sugar and mint extract. Pour coffee with chicory over ice cubes. Add minted topping. Recipe makes two cups.

MENU IV

This one is a simple picnic meal that's positively jumping with nutrients. It's a one-packet dish made for hikers, campers, travelers and boaters. Bananas firm top-quality fruit and one to a person) combine with ham and cheese. Sparked with mustard and neatly bundled in a foil packet, they become a novel and appetizing grill candidate in case the weather changes and the picnic's off, make Bananas Bundles anyway. . . 15 minutes in a moderate oven will do nicely.

BANANA BUNDLES

6 slices boiled ham
Prepared mustard
6 slices American cheese
6 bananas
6 squares aluminum foil

Economy Gains Even Without Viet Nam Aid

Shipment of Goods,
Personal Income
Indicators of Increase

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) - Viet Nam war spending is starting to fatten the new order books of U.S. industry. But even without this, the economy is putting on more weight.

Two indicators of how we're doing right now - shipments of durable goods, and personal incomes - both are rising.

A major indicator of how we'll be doing this fall - new orders for durable goods - is spurring again after a slight lag. In the midst of summer's heat, corporations took in almost as large a dollar volume of new orders as they did in record-smashing April.

And orders having no connection with defense rose, just as did those traceable to increased military spending in the future.
Psychological Effect

How much of a psychological effect the Viet Nam war's quickening pace may have had on those doing the ordering is a matter of opinion. That it had some effect seems likely, since increased government spending for defense will be counted on to foster economic growth.

But much of the new ordering seems traceable to revised and more optimistic expectations that the civilian economy is due to go right on expanding as it has most of the time now since early 1961.

This assessment of the business outlook isn't unanimous - it never is. But there's been a measurable change from the caution of late spring to the more optimistic view of late summer.

Increasing employment has helped to reassure business planners. It means that there will be more people with money to spend on the goods that industry now plans to produce.

Wage Raise

Wages and salaries rose in July to an annual rate of $359.2 billion, up $2.3 billion from June. And half of the July payroll rise is credited to manufacturing companies. Factory pay-rolls are now running at a $117 billion annual rate.

The new orders pouring in at increased volume should keep those payrolls comfortably high.

says durable goods orders in July rose to $22 billion, a gain of $1.1 billion from June, and just under the record $22.04 billion set in April.

Practically all major durable goods showed gains in July, the department says. In the defense field, the aerospace industry and instrument makers reported large increases.

Factories Doing Well
Factories already are doing very well. Shipments of durable goods set a record at $21.6 billion. And their backlog of orders, rose to $57.5 billion, or $6.2 billion higher than July 31, 1964.

If industry is doing so well in summer, how does it look for fall? Most businessmen seem to think very good indeed, if their ordering is a sign.

There are some uncertainties, as always. One is the steel labor negotiations now nearing a climax, with the possibilities including a strike, a wage increase, a price hike, even government intervention. Another is what could happen in Viet Nam, or in a large area of conflict.

But as summer enters the final lap, the betting odds are on a fast track for the economy this fall.

Scots Won't Use 'Slurring' Yule Card

LONDON (AP) - Several
Scottish members of Parliament say they will not use the official House of Commons Christmas card this year because it contains an historical reflection on Scotland.

The card depicts a scene commemorating the 700th anniversary of the Simon de Montfort
Parliament showing Alexander III of Scotland paying homage to an English king, says Neil Carmichael, labor member for Glasgow.

Some Serious Heart Ailments Can be Cured

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss heart rhythm and sinus rhythm. I understand there are two methods of correcting the faulty rhythm: By medication, or by electric shock, and I am particularly interested in the latter. Is it a permanent restoration, etc.? — Mrs. E. H. chest and back, or, in other words, the whole story of how the cases, may be implanted inside heart beats is, as you may well the chest, to place the impulse guess, a rather complicated one.

guided and helped into returning, healing has been complete.

A "pacemaker" is used for certain excessively slow rates so that the frequency of the electric impulses and their strength are precisely controlled. For varying purposes, electrodes may be taped to the chest and back, or, in other words, the whole story of how the cases, may be implanted inside heart beats is, as you may well the chest, to place the impulse guess, a rather complicated one.

STEVENS POINT (AP) — Mrs. Robert R. Williams, 37, Stevens Point, was named by Gov. Warren P. Knowles Tuesday to a five-year term on the Board of Regents of State Universities.

However, a regular impulse arises in the sino-auricular node in the upper part of the heart.

This impulse is transmitted via nerves, to the heart muscle, telling it when to contract, or "beat."

The sinus rhythm is the rate and regularity of this impulse as it appears in the sino-auricular node.

If the sinus rhythm is abnormal, or if the impulse originates from another source, the first method of correction usually is with drugs (quinidine, digitalis, procaineamide, etc.). Very often this keeps the heart beating at a suitable rate.

But if the faulty condition is protracted, or of life-endangering proportions, then an electrical method called cardioversion may be used. Essentially this is a system of applying regularly-timed electrical impulses, so that the body's mechanism is unwilling to believe that the Restoration of normal rhythm by this type of cardioversion may or may not be permanent, again depending on the basic cause of the disorder.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 72 and had a double hernia operation last December. Doctor's orders were to work very little around the house and garden for six months. This I have done.

Even without exertion sometimes symptoms develop as before the operation. Possibly I should allow more time for healing. What should I do? — J. W. C.

Your six months is up. If you really had a recurrent of either protracted, or of life-endangering proportions, then an electrical method called cardioversion may be used. Essentially this is a system of applying regularly-timed electrical impulses, so that the body's mechanism is unwilling to believe that the

No, very few people value money. They value what money can buy. The person who values money as such is regarded as somewhat deranged. A few years ago an elderly person was found practically starved to death.

In his slum apartment, covered with filth and dirt, police found many thousands of dollars tied in paper boxes, hidden in the mattress and elsewhere around the place. This person valued money so much so that he refused to spend it, even to keep from starving. Most people do not.

White Sox Close Gap With 6-5 Triumph Over Baltimore

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

There have been thousands, perhaps millions, of words written and spoken explaining why the New York Yankees are in sixth place this season.

The extensive injury list has been mentioned, and generally poor hitting, and spotty pitching, even old age.

But no one points to Mel Stottlemire, even though he is probably more than anyone — is said, "I had to overcome some trouble in mid-season, but I think that's behind me now."

The figures bear him out. He's won seven of his last nine starts, had six complete games in the string, one shutout and two one-run games.

He had some troubles against the Twins, however, trailing 1-0 until Tommy Tresh unloaded his 20th homer of the season in the eighth, Mickey Mandle, who had singled, scored ahead of him.

Chicago pitcher Bruce Howard singled touching off a four-run third inning rally that carried the streaking White Sox to a 6-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 6-5, climbing to within 1 1/2 games of the top, Detroit clubbed Kansas City 8-2 and Los Angeles whipped Cleveland 7-1. Boston and Washington split a two-night doubleheader, the Red Sox taking the first 9-4 and the Senators the nightcap 8-5.

The Yankee troubles are legion. Without Stottlemire they'd be positively frightening. The 23-year-old, who reached the DENVER, Colo. (AP) — British Amateur champion Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., was matched today against Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis in the opening round of the U.S. Women's Amateur golf championship.

The Wisconsin Women's champion, 17-year-old Carol Jean Sorenson of Racine, barely missed qualifying Tuesday as she lost a four-way sudden death playoff for the 32nd and final berth.

Miss Sorenson, an Arizona State coed who is former national collegiate women's champion, shot a 78 for 10th place in qualifications with a two-day total of 153, five strokes behind the medalist.

Lida Fee Matthews of Portsmouth, Ohio, had a one-over-par 74 again Tuesday for a 148 and the qualifying honors. Miss Sorenson, who shot an 85 Monday, qualified six strokes better than Mrs. Dye who shot 79-80-159.

Racine's Miss Sorenson carded 84-76-160 and matched par on the 277-yard first playoff hole, but the final qualifying spot went to Becky Glascock of Little Rock, Ark., who dropped an 8-foot putt for a birdie three.

Earl Williams Selected By Braves in Draft

Steelers' Injured Myron Pottios to Quit After 1965

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Linebacker Myron Pottios of the Pittsburgh Steelers, sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for the third straight year, said Tuesday he plans to retire from pro football at the end of the 1965 season.

"How much can a guy take? Three years, and every year the same thing. I'm getting sick and tired of running around with my arm in a sling. So I've decided the best thing to do is quit," he said.

The 235-pound former Notre Dame star suffered a dislocated shoulder and a fracture in Sunday's exhibition game against the New York Giants. He will not be able to play for at least six weeks, possibly longer.

Pin League to Meet

The National Couples League will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at Pennings Country Club, Twelve Corners, to organize for the coming season. Interested bowlers should attend or contact Les Beyer or Gordon Kain.

Hurls St. Paul to 1-0 Win; Bleier's Trips Fox River Paper

A 26-strike out performance by Glen Nau gave St. Paul a 1-0, 11-inning triumph over Grishaber's Citgo Tuesday night and advanced the winners to the night's semi-finals of the 20th annual city softball tournament sponsored by the Appleton Recreation Department.

In other quarter-final contests Bleier's upended Fox River Paper, 8-1; Subway Bar beat Paradise Club, 9-6, and Dag's Drive In defeated St. Bernadette No. 1, 2-1.

Nau allowed just three hits in his win, besting losing hurler Joe Jimenez, who yielded seven hits. St. Paul scored the winning run in the 11th on a single by Harry Oswald and Tom Kimball's long double.

Bob Diener allowed only five baserunners in hurling Bleier's into the semis. He allowed four hits, including a solo homer by Jim Peerenboom. Cloyd Thede was the loser.

Dale Humphrey hurled the win for Subway, giving up six hits. Hildebrand was the loser.

Jerry Schmidt pitched a three-hitter for Dag's, besting losing hurler John DeYoung, who gave up five.

In tonight's games, Bleier's will face Dag's at 6:30 and St. Paul will meet Subway at 7:45. Both games will be at Telulah Park. Thursday's championship tilt will be at 7:45 p.m., following the third-place game at 6:30.

Permit Issued For Remodeling Bowling Lanes

KAUKAUNA—A building permit has been issued to Joseph Bayorgeon by Eugene Ditter, building inspector, for improvement of bowling lanes at 136 W. Wisconsin Ave., cost estimated at $5,000.

Bayorgeon indicated, a new 90-foot front would be put on the existing alleys and another building adjacent to the alleys, recently purchased by Bayorgeon. An archway will be cut between the two buildings to connect the structures. Future plans call for the possible installation of four more bowling lanes and a snack bar, note Bayorgeon.

Construction work is underway by Oudenhoven Construction Co., Kaukauna.

Nicklaus Just $785 Short Virtual Cinch to Set Money Mark On PGA Campaign

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Masters champion Jack Nicklaus banked a mere $845 after the $200,800 Carling World Golf Championship Monday and missed his chance to top Arnold Palmer's 1963 money-winning record in official PGA tournaments.

But Nicklaus continues to lead the money-winners list with $127,445 in official, $11,188 unofficial and $138,633 in total earnings. He is $785 short of the all-time record.

Tony Lema got $35,000 for his first-place finish in the Carling and vaulted from fifth to second in earnings — $98,016 in official, $7,053 unofficial for a total of $105,069.

Bill Casper trails Lema with $74,521 in official PGA events. His total is $99,814.

Others in the top 10, with official money first, unofficial second and the total:

Gary Player $69,964, $1,096, $71,060; Bruce Devlin $65,132, $3,264, $68,397; Doug Sanders $60,503, $10,858, $71,362; Gene Littler $58,336, $4,303, $62,639; Dave Marr $56,850, $6,080, $62,930; Dan Sikes Jr. $50,271, $3,500, $53,771 and Bruce Crampton $50,029, $12,249, $62,279.

Municipal Judge Fines Softball Player After Dispute With Umpire

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Thomas J. Schwartz was fined $50 and given a three-day suspended sentence on an assault and battery conviction involving a dispute with a softball game umpire.

"There have been too many examples of bad sportsmanship lately," said Municipal Judge John W. Keefe Monday after convicting the industrial league softball player. "We have to support our umpires."

Fond du Lac Shooter Has 198 Out of 200

One of 5 Members Of Family Entered In Grand American

Special to The Post-Crescent
VANDALIA, Ohio — Dick Brauer, one of five members of a Fond du Lac family competing in the Grand American trapshooting tournament at Vandalia O. cracked a 198 in the 200 bird singles race on class championship day here Tuesday.

Another Wisconsin shooter, John Doleshal, Columbus hit a 199 to tie for first place, but then wound up in second place when he was bested in a 25 bird shoot-off.

Other members of the Brauer family, consisting of a father, two brothers and two sisters who scored Tuesday were father William Brauer with 165 x 200, brother William A. Brauer III with a 194 and 17 year old sister Patti Brauer with 183.

The fifth member of the "shootingist family" at the 65th Grand American, sister Barbara, didn't compete Tuesday.

More than 1,100 shooters competed in Tuesday's event as compared to 973 in the same event last year. All signs point to this being the largest trapshooting tournament in the 65 year history of the meet.

Other area scores were: Richard Marx, Fond du Lac, 191; Nies Fritz, Two Rivers, 187; M. R. Personette, Oshkosh, 197; Ruby Jenner, Waupaca, 186; Ray Jenner, Waupaca, 188. In doubles competition, a special event following the class singles championship, Personette broke 82 x 100 and William A. Brauer III broke 91 x 100. Another Wisconsin shooter, John Olson, Milwaukee with a 99 took second place in this event.

Continental League Team Signs Gibbs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Bulldogs of the Continental League signed quarterback Sonny Gibbs, former Texas Christian ace, Tuesday.

Gibbs was recently dropped by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League. The 6-foot-6 Gibbs spent two years with the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL and one with the Lions.

Hopes to Improve on 5-7-2 Record

Svare Optimistic of Rams' Chances

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — "I don't want to just look good, I want to win," said Svare. "I've been on a champion-ship team. Yes sir, I think we have a shot at the title."

Harland Svare, head coach of the Los Angeles Rams, is doing some positive thinking at the training camp on the Chapman College campus. "I'd rather have the Rams run more than throw," said the ex-New York Giant linebacker. "Every championship team does that. We're trying to get people of championship caliber at all positions and we're getting there."

The Rams have been bouncing around in the second division so long — since 1958 — that it is refreshing to hear talk of winning even if it is a big hop from a 5-7-2 record. Bill Munson, a 1964 crop by the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, earned the starting quarterback job for the opening pre-season game, but Svare will give Roman Gabriel a shot at the position.

from Notre Dame, has looked good. And we have Willie Brown the swing man behind McDonald."

Svare would like more run-back from Green Bay to fill a corner than he has but will settle for a full year from fullback Cliff Livingston or ex-Steeler Ed Dick Bass and halfback Les Josephson, a Dallas castoff.

The Rams also have been taking a long look at a new Jim Brown, a 6-1, 210-pound rookie. Bobby Smith and Aaron Martin probably will be the State picked up as a free agent. Sware believes his offensive line will be better. He is high on Charlie Cowan, 6-4, 280, a guard who is being groomed as the safety and Ed Meador the free replacement for veteran Frank Varrichione, an 11th year man.

The Rams' defense led the 24 field goals last year and league in fewest yards given up best in the NFL since Lou Groza on the ground last year. The made 23 of 25 in 1953. The punt-front four of Dean Jones, Merle Olsen, Rosey Grier and Lamar Lundy is massive and rough burn.

Braves Blow Chance to Take Lead

the Reds to only one run. But after giving up a single and a walk, his eighth, in the eighth inning, Blasingame was removed. Osinski came on to strike out Deron Johnson, and O'Dell was called in to get Charley James on an infield pop.

The crisis seemed over for the Braves, who had taken the lead in the seventh on a walk to Oliver, a hit and run single by Mike de La Hoz and a force out by Denis Menke. Eddie Mathews had accounted for the other Milwaukee run with a home run, his 29th, in the fourth.

Infield Hit
After O'Dell fanned Cardenas, the leadoff hitter in the ninth, Jim Coker tapped to deep short between Mathews and Menke. The shortstop got to the ball but his throw was late and wide and Coker was credited with a hit.

Chico Ruiz then grounded out to Joe Torre with Coker, who runs well for a catcher, moving to second.

O'Dell got one strike on Harper before the left fielder connected on an O'Dell fast ball, and drove it over the left field fence.

"It was the first time we had a chance to hang one on that Maloney," moaned Bragan Maloney, who pitched a no hitter in his last outing, has now beaten the Braves four times without a defeat this season. The Braves plan to use Denny Lemaster, 6 - 10, against the Reds' Sammy Ellis, 16-7, in tonight's game.

AAU Blames College Clique For Track Feud

Small Minority Responsible for Boycott, Says Hull

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union blamed a college clique today for a jurisdictional feud which threatens young track and field athletes' careers and U.S. Olympic hopes.

AAU Executive Director Don Hull told the Senate Commerce Committee in prepared testimony that a "very small minority" in the top leadership of the rival National Collegiate Athletic Association was responsible for that organization's boycott of AAU meets.

A temporary truce engineered by the committee on Aug. 16 is all that stands between the two organizations and the athletes, both groups have threatened with expulsion from competition for breaking their rival boycotts.

Led By A Few
"I would characterize the NCAA boycott as a situation in which never have so many nice guys (on NCAA) been so wrongfully led by a few," Hull told the committee.

The committee is investigating the latest flareup in the off-BATTING — Tommy Harper, and-on NCAA-AAU feud. It seeks a permanent peace plan to save the careers of young athletes and bring a new togetherness in efforts to field the strongest possible team for international competition, including the 1968 Olympic Games.

Earl H. (Red) Blaik, the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur's No. 2 man in negotiating the 1963-64 truce which smoothed the way for U.S. participation in the 1964 Olympics, Tuesday gave the committee a plan for compulsory arbitration. The senators present said the plan looked good. Blaik is the former head football coach at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

But no one claimed that either side would accept it, or that the Congress could avoid enacting some law to compel a settlement which neither side might like.

Most Gun Accidents Due to Poor Eyesight, Gov. Knowles Claims

MADISON (AP)—As many as 60 per cent of all gun accidents in Wisconsin are caused probably by poor eyesight, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Monday.

He asked the Conservation Department, State Medical Society, and Optometry Association to make hunters "acutely conscious" of the need for good eyesight. Knowles quoted the State Board of Examiners in Optometry as giving the percentage figure and saying up to 25,000 color blind hunters may be in the woods this fall.

Kimberly to Have Registration School Referendum Schedule Set

Board to Request $425,000 Bond Issue to Finish Building

Holy Name School At Kimberly to Open on Sept. 2

KIMBERLY—At a special Miss Joan Hagenow, first meeting Tuesday night the grade: Mrs. Lorraine Jarvis, board of education voted to hold part-time commercial at hte a referendum Oct. 12 on wheth- high school and Mrs. Joyce Giovanoni, part-time English at er $425,000 in general obligation bonds should be issued for completion of the second floor of the high school.

The referendum will be held in the lobby of the J. R. Gerrits Junior High School gym with voting from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Part of the money will be used to enlarge the high school's music department and industrial arts area.

Completion of the second floor, originally scheduled for 1968, was moved up to make room for the 200 second graders expected in 1966-67 when that grade is discontinued at Holy Name Catholic School. Six classrooms will have to be found to house this influx of students.

Insurance Programs Board members voted to continue paying one-half of the insurance premium to school employees although the rates were increased from $7.20 to $7.66 for a single rate and $19.10 to $20.85 for a family.

The board approved retaining Continental Casualty Insurance Company for student accident insurance. Rates for this insurance were raised, but a check with other companies showed the premium to be in line with others.

Ray Hamann, superintendent of schools, was authorized to complete necessary forms to make the school district eligible for federal aid in various school programs and to sign a contract with Kobussen Bus Company.

New Commercial Teacher The resignation of Miss Donna Smith, high school commercial teacher, because of family illness was accepted. Miss Vel Bruno, who holds a masters degree from the University of Michigan, will fill the vacancy.

Other teachers hired include: (M-Missing) (T-Trace)

KIMBERLY—Registration of students at Holy Name of Jesus Catholic School will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday in the school gymnasium. All students whether they attended last year or not must be registered.

Parents of first graders also may pick up religion books at the same time. School is scheduled to begin Sept. 2, following the diocesan school calendar. Thanksgiving recess will be Nov. 25 and 26. Christmas recess from Dec. 22 to Jan. 5, and Easter recess from April 7 to 11.

In addition there will be two national holidays, three religious holy days, one day for teacher conferences and two conference days when students will be dismissed from classes. School will close June 3.

A full time music teacher, Sister Emily, has been added to the faculty this year to increase from 11 to 27 as compared to 26 last year. Six nuns and three lay teachers who were in the system last year have been replaced, nuns being transferred and lay teachers taking other assignments.

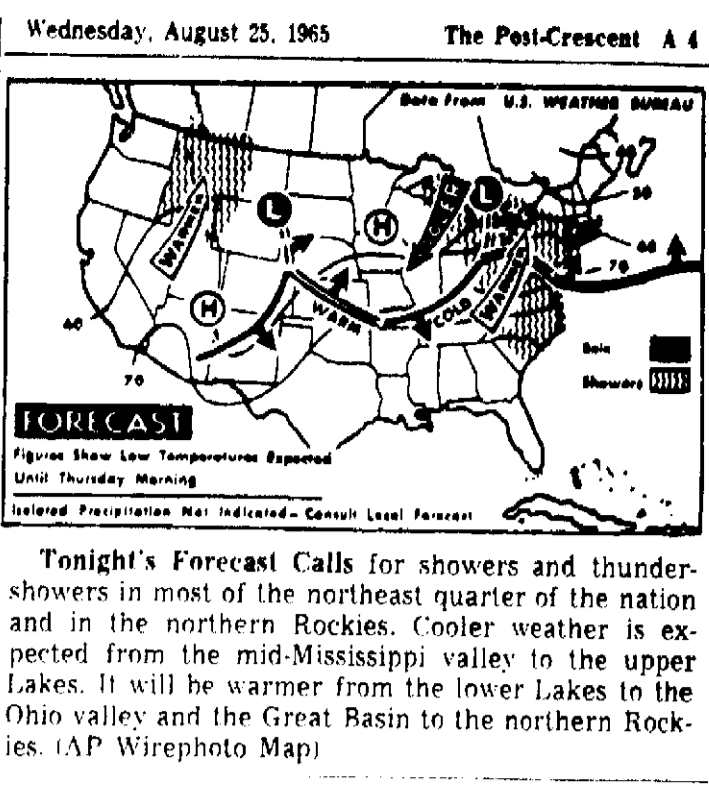

No curriculum changes are contemplated for the coming school year and no construction was undertaken in the past year. Enrollment last year was 1,091 and it is anticipated the enrollment for 1965-66 will be about the same. Enrollment for 1966-67 will drop somewhat when second grade classes will be transferred to the public school, accounting for about 200 students.

Bidding for Appleton Garage Opens Aug. 28

Appleton will begin taking bids Aug. 28 for construction of a new municipal garage, at the old Outagamie County airport property now owned by the city.

Bids for general construction, heating and ventilating work, electrical, plumbing and sprinkler work will be accepted until 1:30 p.m. Oct. 5.

Estimated cost of the structure is $800,000.

Russians Have 6-7 Cager on Women's Squad

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — They call her "Big Red." Rival players shiver at the sight of her.

She is the latest of the Soviet Union's succession of athletic amazons.

Her name is Ravilya Kalimova Prokopenko. She is six feet, seven inches tall. She wears a size 16 shoe. She has hands like hams and the shoulders of a bull.

She plays center for the Russian women's basketball team. The Russian women are by far the best in these fourth World Student Games. They are big, tall and tough — but none as awesome as Ravilya.

When she walks down the street, her elbows usually swinging over the heads of her companions, people stop and gape.

She clogs Budapest traffic. Ravilya said she never played basketball before this year. She was working peacefully coaches are Bob Landis and Tom Romenesko.

Offensive Backs

linemen back in harness include Joe Griffith, Ron Plamann, Pete Stark and center Gary Lutz.

Soley was the regular quarterback throughout the 1964 season. After a rugged start, Soley began hitting his passing targets with regularity as the season progressed. The Terrors opened the '64 season by losing three of the first four games, but as Soley developed, the AHS contingent improved to an even 4-4 mark for the season.

Kloes, a 205 pound fullback, was one of the pleasant surprises as a sophomore, blossoming into one of the finest backs in the loop in the latter stages of the season. The hard-running junior is expected to share the rushing burden with Brinkman and possibly junior Jeff Bruch.

Prime Targets

Soley's prime targets at the moment appear to be Griffith, senior Larry Einspahr, Brinkman and Dennis Lamers. Other quarterback candidates include Pat Garvey, Kent Johnson, Brent Gibson and Ade Dillon Jr.

Another promising junior back, Gary Vivoda, will undoubtedly work his way into Coach Dillon's offensive planning.

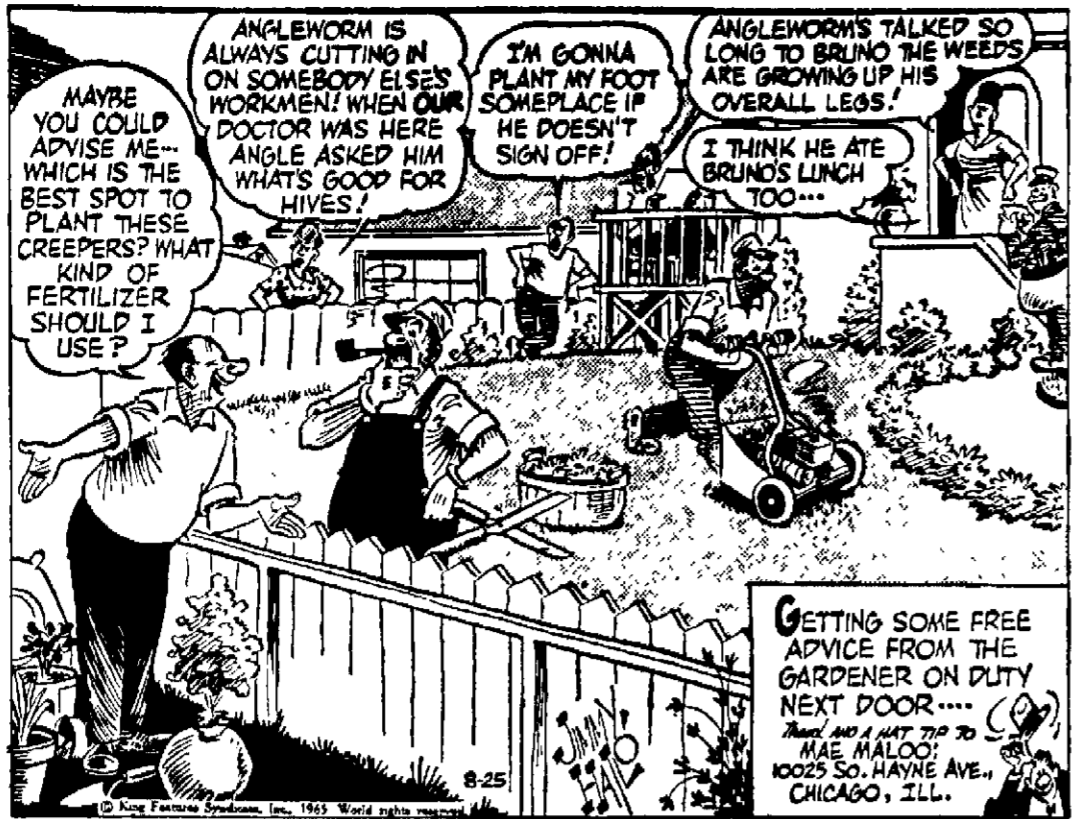

"Defense appears to be the weakest point at present," commented Dillon. "We have three or four real tough kids, but we'll need more than that. It's hard to tell much yet, but I think we'll do all right. It all depends on the defense. Our offense should be able to move the ball well," the venerable AHS master strategist continued.

Most Impressive

Dillon listed linemen Tom Reitzner and Jim Michalkiewicz as the most impressive among the non-veterans. Another possible starter is Bob Simon, in the defensive or offensive backfield.

'Let-Down-Your-Hair Meeting'

Redlegs Back in Pennant Chase After Clubhouse Talk, Big Homer

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) -- The Cincinnati Reds spent 70 minutes talking, but all Tommy Harper needed was a few seconds to rocket the Reds back into the National League pennant scramble.

The 24-year-old Harper hit a two-out, two-run home run off the Milwaukee Braves' ace reliever Billy O'Dell Tuesday night giving the Reds a 3-2 victory and moving them within 2½ games of the lead.

A loss would have left the Reds four games in back of the Braves, who were poised to take the lead before Harper's shot to left, and that's where the talking came in.

Finest of Year

Reds' Manager Dick Sisler, aware of the importance of the game, called his team together before batting practice.

"It was a let-down-your-hair meeting," explained Sisler, "where I discussed things and so did they. It lasted for an hour and 10 minutes, but I didn't do all the talking. It was the finest meeting we had all year and we had a few."

Neither Sisler nor the Reds would discuss details of the meeting, but it was a determined-looking group of play-

Heindel Pigeon First in Race

KAUKAUNA--A bird owned by the Gary Heindel loft, Kaukauna, won the Fox Valley Pigeon Club's race from Sparta Sunday as it covered the distance in a clocking of 637.17 yards per minute.

Other birds, in their order of finish, were owned by Robert Vander Zanden, Little Chute, 633.70; Harleys Brothers, Kaukauna, 632.59; Nick Ruys, Kimberly, 628.89; Walter Dombrowski, Menasha, 628.26; Robert Mys, Appleton, 622.63; Julius Busmans, Kimberly, 590.17; Jim Verkullen, Little Chute, 583.96; Mark Mollen, Little Chute, 583.17; Tom Biese, Kaukauna, 582.43; Ken Forester, Kimberly, 581.31 and Fred Reider, Kaukauna, 590.83.

This weekend's race will be from Rochester, Minn.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING -- Mel Stottlemyre, Yankees, limited Minnesota to five hits in pitching New York to a 2-1 victory.

"I think everyone, when they walked out, felt good," said Sisler, whose Reds had been stalled in fourth place in the tight pennant chase. "I know I felt good."

Sisler started Jim Maloney, who was making his first appearance since no-hitting the Chicago Cubs last week.

For six innings, Maloney and the Braves' Wade Blasingame battled in a 1-1 duel, but Milwaukee broke through for a run in the seventh and it was still standing in the ninth.

O'Dell, who had helped put down a Reds' uprising in the eighth, struck out Leo Cardenas, the leadoff hitter, in the final frame, but Jim Coker, the next batter, legged out an infield hit. Chico Ruiz advanced Coker to second by grounding out. Then up stepped Harper.

O'Dell threw a fast ball by him for a strike, then came back with another fast ball inside. Harper swung and the ball took off on a line toward the left field fence.

"I was just hoping the ball would go over the outfielder's head. He had jammed me and I didn't think I hit the ball real good," Harper said.

Harper said the hit was the biggest of his career. "I don't know how many runs batted in I have this season," he said, "but those two tonight were the biggest."

Mets Beat Dodgers, 4-3; Giants Lose

the league lead. Los Angeles had blown a 4-3 verdict to the last-place Mets and a Milwaukee victory would put the Braves one-half game ahead of the Dodgers in the pennant scramble.

70-Minute Meeting

The Reds' victory, after a 70-minute pre game meeting called by Manager Dick Sisler, carried them within 2½ games of first place. They trail Milwaukee by two games and are one behind third-place San Francisco.

Pittsburgh's Don Cardwell stopped the Giants 5-2 on five hits. Houston edged Philadelphia 4-3 and St. Louis nipped the Cubs 7-6 in 10 innings in other NL games.

Maloney's 15th victory matched his total for 1964, when he came on to win nine of 11 decisions after July 1. He is 8-4 this year since that date.

Pinch hitter Johnny Stephenson delivered a three-run double in the ninth, pushing the Mets past Los Angeles. Stephenson connected off reliever Bob Miller after an error by Jim LeFebvre. Ed Kranepool's single and Joe Christopher's safe bunt loaded the bases.

Lou Johnson drove in all three Dodger runs with a single in the sixth and two-run double in the eighth.

Clipped for Two Runs

Cardwell, clipped for two runs in the third, blanked the Giants the rest of the way and collected two of Pittsburgh's 11 hits. The Pirates right-hander, now 11-8, singled in the fifth and scored the go-ahead run on Rob Bailey's triple off loser Bob Shaw.

Houston broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth when Rusty Staub, singled, Dave Adlesh walked and Philadelphia reliever Gary Wagner threw wildly to third on pitcher Don Nottbart's sacrifice bunt, enabling Staub to score. The Astros had tied it in the fifth on Jim Wynn's two-run homer off Chris Short.

Tito Francona lashed a pinch single off third baseman Ron Santo's glove, scoring Curt Flood with the winning run in the 10th at St. Louis. The Cardinals had blown a 6-2 lead, with Jim Stewart's ninth-inning sacrifice fly pulling the Cubs even.

Meanwhile, the visitors look advantage of a Foxes' lapse afield and on the mound for two runs in the sixth inning.

through Denning's outstretched hands, with Edgerly circling the bases to break the scoreless tie.

Channel 11 Goes Behind War Story

BY TV SCOUT
7:30-8:30 (Channel 11) — The Agony of Viet Nam is still another excellent special on the war in Southeast Asia. This one written, produced and directed by Stephen Fleischman, goes behind the headlines to present a graphic picture of the action with the Viet Cong as well as an intimate study of the battle-struck Vietnamese villages.

6:30-8 (Channel 5) — Fans of Randy Boone on The Virginian better get their handkerchiefs ready for the "Legend for a Lawman." The poor boy seems destined for a fate far worse than that of folk hero Tom Dooley. (COLOR) R

7:30 (Channel 11) — Things are perking up on The Patty Duke Show as the deft little heroine enlists the aid of her substitute physiology teacher Robert Goulet to help her find the "right" husband R

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show has another amusing offering with "Baby Fat." The fun is that Rob is enlisted by boss Alan Brady (Carl Reiner) to patch up a Broadway comedy written by a Pulitzer Prize winning author who doesn't know a "graveyard from a joke" R

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — Wednesday Night at the Movies "Adam's Rib" is a treat for admirers of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn, as well as for the fans of Judy Holliday, Tom Ewell and David Wayne. The comedy pits Tracy and Hepburn as Mr. and Mrs. who also happen to be lawyers R

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — The only thing that doesn't swing in "Who Killed the Swinger on a Hook" on Burke's Law is the polo R

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour sparkles more than usual, with guests Edie Adams and Ernie Kovacs. The two couples are out to save Desi's ebbing show-biz fortunes R

World Bank to Finance Road Study in Niger
WASHINGTON (AP) — The World Bank has agreed to help organize and finance a study to prepare a road maintenance program for the Republic of Niger. The bank will pay foreign exchange costs estimated at $84,000 while Niger will meet local currency costs.

Kaukauna Firm Plant Addition Costs $200,000

Giddings, Lewis Will Increase Cast Iron Production Capacity

KAUKAUNA — Construction totaling more than $200,000 has been started by Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co. at its plant here.

Two plant improvements will cost more than $100,000 each, company officials estimate.

Cast iron production capacity at the plant will be increased by 25 per cent with an 80 by 140 foot addition.

A 60 by 60 foot single story addition will house office and locker room space. It will be built of concrete block and steel at the northeast corner of the main production plant.

The expansion was designed by company engineers. Oudenhooven Construction Co., Kaukauna, is doing the construction work.

Office Building
A 72 by 80 foot office building is being constructed to house the firm's engineering, industrial relation and production offices. It will be a steel and masonry two-story air-conditioned structure.

Offices now in use will be converted to production facilities once the new building is complete. Frank Zeise Construction Co. is the contractor, while Nichols and Brummel, Green Bay, designed the structure.

Company officials hope to move into the new buildings late in 1965 or early in 1966.

In the last 10 years, Giddings and Lewis has spent more than $12 million domestically for expansion and modernization.

2 Youths, 2 Adults Being Questioned On 9 Break-ins

Two juveniles and two adults are being held by Outagamie County sheriff department authorities in connection with nine reported break-ins investigated since March 22.

Names of the individuals are being withheld until charges are filed against them. The juveniles, one 16 and one 17, will be processed through juvenile authorities.

Sheriff Lt. Russell Bowers said the four have signed statements outlining their parts in break-ins to the Mac's Landing, Hortonville, the Port-Lie Bar, Shiocton, the Shiocton Feed Mill, the Bear Creek Feed Mill, Brown's Liquor Store, New London, a service station near Readfield, a feed mill north of Readfield, and the Circus Inn, Waupaca.

Bowers said there has been no determination of how much money and merchandise was taken in the series of break-ins. The four being held in the Outagamie County Jail are from the New London, Dale and Medina area.

Drivers Escape Injury In Calumet Accident

CHILTON—No injuries occurred when cars driven by Florence A. Schneider, 41, route 2, Chilton, and one driven by Ronald W. Karls, 17, route 2, Chilton collided at 10 a.m. Sunday on a town road in Chilesburg.

Karls told Calumet County police he was coming out of a farm driveway, saw no cars and was proceeding onto the road when the accident occurred. The Schneider vehicle was headed east on the town road.

The Karls auto was not damaged while the right rear door and fender of the Schneider car received $290 damage.

Little Wolf District Votes for Grade School but Rejects Site

Plot Recommended by Building Committee Defeated 93 to 75

MANAWA — Voters of the Little Wolf Grade School District wanted to build a new grade school, but they still have to decide where.

Electors rejected a proposal to purchase the McCabe property by a 93 to 75 vote Monday night at the second meeting on the location of the proposed school. The plot has been recommended by the building committee site.

When the question was raised whether residents of the district want to build a new school for kindergarten and the first six grades, an 83 to 68 affirmative vote was cast.

Vacate Present School

The proposed school would vacate the present grade school building which would be converted into a junior high school and to extend present high school science facilities.

The new grade school's area would include Manawa, Knowlledge Hill, Fairfield and Maple Hill. The Ogdensburg, Symco and Royaltown areas have indicated they wish to maintain present schools.

School board clerk Dr. Elvin Prahter read letters at the delayed annual meeting from the Wisconsin Department of Education and the Wisconsin Soil Conservation Commission which recommended the McCabe property as site for the new grade school.

Kenneth Poppy, New London, chairman of the cooperative Educational Services Agency, Madison & Son, Inc., Minneapolis said a junior high school was

Waupaca Moves to Zone Land Along New Bypass

Farmer, 90, Dies After Fall From Tractor

Nathan Shauger, Rural Black Creek, Victim of Mishap

BLACK CREEK — Nathan A. Shauger, 90, Town of Maine farmer who drove himself home after falling from his tractor Friday, died Tuesday at New London Community Hospital. Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said death was caused by a punctured lung. Shauger died about 7 p.m. Friday, died Tuesday at New London Community Hospital. Shauger was breaking up soil on his land when he was brushed to the ground by a tree branch. He was believed to have been injured by the disc harrow which was attached to the tractor.

Waited For Help
The main walked to a road to stop a motorist for help but no one came along. He sat in his car about 90 minutes before he drove home and bathed his injuries.

His daughter, Mrs. Arnold Burmeister, came to her father's home about 7 p.m. Friday and persuaded him to see a doctor. The doctor then ordered him to a hospital.

Shauger is a former treasurer of the Town of Maine and was a retired rural mail carrier. He lived alone at his home at route 1, Black Creek. The Muehl Funeral Home is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

New London Pool Plans to Reduce Operation Hours

NEW LONDON—The municipal pool will close Labor Day and operate on a reduced schedule beginning Tuesday, according to Director Gary Henke. Henke, a high school teacher said the pool would be open from 5 to 9 p.m. Tuesday to Friday and operate its regular hours Saturdays. The hours will be in effect through the first week of school.

Henke reports excellent participation in the pool program, with an average daily attendance of more than 300 persons. Swimming lessons were completed Aug. 20.

Supreme in Ice Cream

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State led the nation in production of ice cream in 1964 for the fourth straight year, the State Agriculture Department says. Last year's production of 77,657,000 gallons was a record for the state and exceeded the 1963 total by more than 15 million gallons, the department said.

'Time to Cooperate' Says Mayor

Waupaca Council, Commission Agree to Rezone Land for Jail Site

WAUPACA — The planning commission and city council have agreed to a county proposal to zone a 150 by 340 foot strip of land on the new jail site from residential to commercial providing the county donates enough land for two streets on the 13-acre site.

The compromise was proposed to Mayor Lloyd Matheson at a county board jail committee meeting last Thursday. At that time, and again at the special meetings Tuesday, Matheson said, "I thought the location of the jail on the Cartwright committee are working with the other groups planning the celebration."

Phil Jeske, Waupaca County 4-H agent, was the main speaker at the Lions meeting Monday night.

With the additional strip of land zoned to commercial use the county will be able to locate the jail another 25 feet back from Royaltown Street making the total setback 75 feet.

The two streets will be on the north-south street running along the western edge of the site from Royaltown Street back to the proposed eastern street will start the car and property and drive it to

$30,000 of Road Work

New London Half Way Through Public Works Budget, Director Says

NEW LONDON—About half of sewer were laid, with about 800 feet of sewer left to be installed for the year has been used. The underground work has taken a long time. City crews started last winter, but heavy frosts forced them to halt the project.

Other blacktopping listed for the year is the Douterman City lot off Wolf River Avenue and the alley that runs from Wolf River Avenue to S Water Street parallel to Pearl Street.

Marion Okays New 54-Lot Plat

Mielke Addition Located Near New Public School

MARION—A 54-lot plat in the Earl Mielke addition was accepted Monday by the city council. The area is adjacent to the new school.

The residential plat will be divided into five blocks with one-way streets. The land is located off North Main Street on the Mevis Road. A four-unit apartment building is planned for the new plat.

Peters and Bowers Oil Co. was given the contract for fuel oil at the city hall.

Building permits were granted to DuWayne Ziegler for a mobile unit and utility room and to Ewald Wendorf to construct a cover for his sidewalk and enclose his porch.

Girl Injured in Fall From Horse At New London

NEW LONDON — Patricia Farrell, 11, New Milford, Conn., received head injuries when her first foot became entangled in the stirrup after she was thrown or slid out of the saddle of a riding horse Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Farrell, 2031 Pershing Rd., an aunt with whom the girl was staying, said the girl was riding a horse and then we noticed she was being dragged by the horse."

The girl was taken to Community Hospital. She suffered scrapes and bruises from the ride.

City-Town Commission Proposed

WAUPACA — The city planning commission has proposed controlling building along the section of the new U.S. 10 bypass located in the Town of Waupaca by establishing a special city-town zoning commission.

The action came Tuesday as the group studied zoning problems about the section of the bypass which will be in the town, which has no zoning ordinances and is not planning any.

The proposed commission would have to be approved by the town, according to a new state law. The city and town would each have three members on the commission.

Under the new law, the city has extraterritorial zoning powers 1 1/2 miles beyond the city limits. A representative of Green Engineering, the firm preparing a master plan for the city, recommended that only three or four sections be zoned.

He advised that sections 31, 32, 33 and possibly 28, located in the southwest corner of the town be zoned.

The city council became concerned with zoning along the new bypass several weeks ago when it learned that some property owners have already been contacted about signs along the right-of-way. Planner Donald Gerhardt said he has learned that three service stations have already inquired at the State Highway Department about land along the bypass.

Gerhardt said there is nothing wrong with the construction of signs, provided they are the right type and construction and located in the right places, and added the same pertained to commercial development.

"If nothing is done about zoning there will be 100 signs along the bypass," he said. One of the planning commission members said one sign is already being constructed along the bypass. The new road won't be ready for traffic until late next year.

Three members of the Town of Waupaca board were present at the meeting and agreed that a zoning action would be a good idea. Town Chairman Alex Pope said he did not want to do anything that would hurt the property owners.

He said the proposal will be presented at the town board meeting Sept. 7. The city planning commission granted Mayor Lloyd Matheson the power to appoint the three city representatives on the special committee.

Interim Ordinance
If the city's extraterritorial zoning powers are enforced, the special committee will enact an interim ordinance to preserve existing land use while the comprehensive zoning plan is being prepared.

If this is done all land would be zoned as agricultural, which would leave it open for residential use but not for commercial purposes.

Gerhardt explained that if a plan for a commercial project were brought before the special committee it could grant or reject it.

The interim ordinance would be good for two years and could be extended for one more year if a permanent ordinance was not adopted.

Waupaca County Postmasters Meet

CLINTONVILLE — The Waupaca County Postmasters met Tuesday night at Fischer's Bavaria Supper Club with assistant postmaster Earl Mielke as the host and hostess.

Postmaster Spaul, Black Creek postmaster, showed slides taken on a trip to Europe and showed where he and Mrs. Spaul visited their son in military service. A short business meeting followed.

Those present were Robert Grover, Kaukauna, president of the Waupaca Chapter of Postmasters, and Ray Nunn, Green Bay, postmaster.

Green Bay Run-Aways Admit Theft, Break-in

Three run-aways from the St. Joseph's Home for Boys in Green Bay, Wis., admitted they had broken into a Green Bay and Kaukauna area.

Melvin and John, 14 and 15, admitted they had broken into two cottages near New London, taking food and money. They were arrested by agents as they walked along a road on Monday afternoon and were held in the juvenile section of the county jail.

Rescuing a Panicking Swimmer earned Robert Fenn, 13, Embarras, a certificate of recognition from the American Red Cross and the group's Clintonville chapter. Fenn jumped fully clothed into the Embarras River to pull Martin Koeller, 12, from the water June 21. Louis Krutchenberg made the presentation. (Lath Photos)

School Fuel, Food Contracts Okayed

Seymour Board Also Discusses Crowded Kindergarten Situation

SEYMOUR — The school district again will realize a savings through volume purchasing as indicated by contracts awarded by the school board Tuesday night for fuel and milk supplies during the school year.

The Center Valley Co-Operative was awarded the contract to furnish regular gas to the Black Creek Elementary School for 13.85 cents per gallon on a net basis.

The contract for No. 5 fuel oil was awarded to Suttill Oil Co. of Seymour for its bid of 10.85 cents per gallon.

Heavy Bidding
Heaviest bidding was for the contract for No. 2 fuel oil for the Black Creek and Oneida Elementary Schools with eight oil companies competing. The American Oil Co., although not the lowest bidder, received the contract on a price of 9.85 cents less 1 per cent if paid within 30 days.

School Supt. Robert Farning indicated that the board could not process a bill within 10 days under its existing setup. Some firms allowed discounts on a 10-day basis.

A fraction of a cent made the difference in bids for the Idlewild, Nichols, Sunny Nook, Isaar and Seymour Elementary Schools.

The Nichols Co-Operative Association had a low bid of 11.95 cents a gallon for No. 2 fuel oil.

Coal Bids
Claude Peotter's bid for No. 2 stoker coal for the Seymour Elementary School was low by .40 cents per ton. He bid $13.05 per ton with 30 days to pay while Miller-Piehl Co. bid $13.45 per ton on a 30-day basis.

James Stewart submitted the only bid for milk. Milk will cost the district 4.75 cents per half-pint and 5 cents per half-pint of chocolate.

Mrs. Beatrice McBain and Supt. Farning will choose a new cook for the high school among four applicants. Mrs. Mabel Schlack, who cooked last year, has retired. School cooks are required by the state to pass a physical examination each year.

Ralph Engel of Seymour was hired as fourth custodian at the high school for $300 per month. Engel recently returned from his missionary work in Mexico and will spend the next year here between assignments.

Transportation Contract
Parent transportation contracts were signed with Eugene Barth who takes two Black Creek children to the Morgan School in Appleton. Raymond Braun's contract was tentatively approved providing his auto insurance is in force.

In a July 19 report to the school board, State Supt. Angus Rothwell recommended an expanded upper grade curriculum, encouraging teachers to obtain advanced degrees, bettering the student-teacher class number ratio and lengthening the school year to 180 teaching days.

Farning said many of the recommendations hinged on the planned building program.

The need for a building program also was noted as a result of the increased Seymour kindergarten classes this year. Advanced registration has reached 82 for two sections. The board is considering hiring a secretary to assist Mrs. Miriam Van Vuren, the kindergarten teacher.

Only students from the old Seymour elementary District

Theft of Bathing Suits Continues; Shifts to Area Near New London

NEW LONDON — The theft of ladies bathing suits and under garments has spread beyond the city to Hortonville, Hortonport and the towns of Fortuna and Mukwa, according to police.

Police Chief Jack Algers Tuesday said at least nine weeks from a three-day work-winning suits and countless women's garments had been stolen in New London.

Reports of missing articles of clothing have also been received from the Dale-Medina area.

Attendance Hits 43,000 at Waupaca South Park Beach

WAUPACA — Attendance at last week. At the present time South Park Beach reached 43,000. 72 swimmers have completed the first week to bring the season's course and have received their first to 43,000 which is 2,210 certificate.

Getting to the Top Is a Noble aspiration and it proved to be a rewarding one, too, for George Hoehnberger, 15, Fremont, at the recent farm festival. Hoehnberger scurried to the top of the greased 20-foot pole to pluck off a $20 bill attached to the top. (Schmidt Photo)

Ice Cream, Corn Plentiful at Fremont Farm Day Festival

FREMONT — There was plenty of ice cream and roasted corn at the farm festival day. But the major afternoon attraction was the greased pole. Commerce Saturday, seventy-five gallons of ice cream were given away under the direction of the Busy Beavers 4-H Club.

The evening attraction featured music and dancing at the village hall. Included was a twist contest with Gordon Cronce Jr., and Holly Masaros receiving the first prize cash award. Kim Kinsman and Lynn Weiss received first prize in the junior division. Judges were Mrs. Evan Redemann, Mrs. Earl Tankford and Mrs. Harold Olson.

Evan Redemann was master of ceremonies throughout the program which also featured a white elephant sale.

A bake sale sponsored by the 4-H club totaled $32.40. The money will be used in a community builders project the club is sponsoring.

Share Mound Duties
Frank Wegner was the losing hurler, with Emerson Hull and Marv Wiesnicht sharing the mound duties with him.

Dave Kuhn socked three hits, including a three-run home run, to drive in five runs and lead Gresham to a 10-2 win over Clintonville. Dan Neumier was the winning moundsman.

Dave Resch tossed a one-hitter for the Birmamwood Cardinals, striking out 15 Almon batters in a 6-0 victory. Bob Whitehouse spoiled Resch's no-hit attempt with a dribbler in front of the plate in the sixth.

Steve Strong of Wittenberg, second and Eland's Roger Breske put on strong pitching performance, but Wittenberg's Gene Wood socked a three-run homer in the first to pace the winners to the 5-0 triumph.

Allows Four Hits
Strong allowed only four hits and struck out eight Eland batters, while Breske gave up seven safeties and whiffed 15.

Scandinavia nudged Lola 3-2 as Dick Brown fashioned a three-hitter, including 11 strikeouts. Charles Jacobson was the loser.

Scandinavia scored all its runs in the third frame, sparked by Paul Nelson's two-run double, while Lola tallied in the first and last innings.

Frank Lieschow fired a two-hitter and fanned 15 batters as Symco trounced Big Falls, 18-4. Ken Groholski led the winners' offense with 4 for 5 and four runs scored. Bill Radies was the loser, and was followed to be mound by LeRoy Josse and Marilyn Bailey.

57 Gridders Report For Practice at Clintonville High

CLINTONVILLE — Fifty-seven boys reported for football at the Clintonville Senior High School Monday.

Equipment was issued to the seniors Tuesday morning for practice. In the afternoon the junior boys were issued equipment and then held practice.

Assisting T. D. Ellis, head coach this year are Robert Hanson and Joe King.

A practice scrimmage is scheduled with Antigo for Sept. 4 and the opening game is at Merrill Sept. 10.

New London Cub Scout Pack, Parents to Meet

Banta Company High School Sites Objects to Site Of Expressway

Road May Interfere With Firm's Growth,
Valley Planners Told

The technical advisory committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, was informed Tuesday that the proposed Tri-County Expressway may interfere with future expansion plans of the Geo. Banta Co.

George Banta Jr., president, told the committee the proposed expressway would cut across land the firm owns north of its present facilities, which it hopes to use for new plants in the future.

The proposed expressway would run midway between County Trunk P and Midway Road in the area west of State 47 where the firm has its plants.

Will Need to Expand
Banta told the committee the firm is "running out of space" and will have to build in the near future. He said it would be "a serious problem for us" if the proposed expressway was built in the designated area.

He warned the committee, "we would hate to have to move," reminding the members that the firm employs 1,200 to 1,300 people.

Referred to Committee
Clarence Brownson, committee chairman, appointed a committee to study the problem and see if some solution can be found.

In other action, a committee was appointed to formulate a development plan for a section of land near the new Outagamie County Airport in the Town of Greenville. Brownson told the committee town officials had requested assistance in formulating some plan which would provide proper zoning and orderly development.

High School Sites Committee Seeks 30-40 Acres; View Potential Areas Monday

BRILLION—Potential sites for a new high school were discussed by land owners and the school building committee Monday night. They will meet to view the sites offered at 1:30 p.m. next Monday and then discuss them at an evening meeting.

A 30-40 acre site is favored if

A site must be chosen before the architectural firm of Berner-Shober and Kilp of Green Bay can proceed with its work. Test borings also must be made to determine soil conditions at the suggested sites.

North of City
Louis Rank offered to donate a 10-acre tract of land one mile north of Brillion for the new school. Twenty additional acres would be made available to the school by Rank at a cost of $1,000 per acre.

Two parcels of land owned by Nick Binsfeld were offered to the school. A 33-acre tract a quarter mile north of Brillion would cost $25,000 and a 34-acre section north of Rent-A-Truck would cost $20,000.

Twenty-five acres of land located one mile west of Brillion could be purchased for $16,200, according to owner Dan Gieger. He also has additional land available at $800 per acre.

32 Acre Site
Thirty-two acres of land across from the new Ariens Co. plant west of here on U.S. 10 could be purchased from Ed Barth at a cost of $1,000 per acre.

Robert Stanelle, who owns 240 acres of land near Forest Junction, offered to donate any 20 acres for the new school and to sell additional land at $750 per acre.

Donald Sommers and John Horn own land within the city limits which would be available for school purposes. No price was given because they were unable to attend the meeting.

Near Athletic Field
A 20-acre plot owned by Larry Pagel near the present high school athletic field could be purchased for $20,000. No price was given for other adjacent land owned by Ted Eichhorst.

The school building committee is comprised of Mrs. Kenneth Dexheimer, Mrs. Edgar Mueller, Mrs. Howard Luckow, Allan Coenen, Ray Frisby, Mel Thorp, Norbert Geiger, Ed Rusch, Willard Tschantz, Harrison Weaver, Wilmer Strubbing, Herbert Bastian, Clarence Wolf and Robert Ambrosius.

Snyder Named To Board of Menasha Corp.

Formerly Served as
American Can Co.

MENASHA — Donald A. Snyder, 383 Lake Road, formerly vice president of American Can Co. and general manager of Marathon Division, has been elected to the Board of Directors of Menasha Corp.

Richard L. Johnson, president of the company, made the announcement today.

A long-time employee of Marathon Corp. prior to its acquisition by American, Snyder became general manager of the division and a vice president of American in 1960, and a member of its board of directors in 1962.

He was also chairman of the boards of Marathon Corp. of Canada Limited and Marathon Southern Corp. Since October, 1964, he has been a consultant to American.

Resident for 34 Years
A resident of the area for 34 years, Snyder has been active in local affairs, having served as president of the Civic Music Association and Community Chest of Neenah-Menasha. He is a trustee of Theda Clark Memorial Hospital and a director of the National Manufacturers Bank.

One of the 12 state business men appointed by Governor Knowles in February, he is currently serving on the Wisconsin Committee for Improved Expenditure Management which this week made its first report of its study of the executive branch of the government.

Menasha Corp., a manufacturer of corrugated containers, paperboard, plywood, and wood flour, has its corporate office in Menasha. Its local operation is in Menasha. In addition to its recently completed plant south of Neenah, it has other divisions at Anaheim, Calif.; Chicago, Ill.; Medina, Ohio; Olsberg, Mich.; North Bend and Albany, Ore., and Tacoma, Wash.

Fell Short in '64

Waupaca Community Chest Raises Campaign Goal to Record $10,000

WAUPACA — A record $10,000 Waupaca Community Chest budget for the year was set Monday by the drive's board of directors.

Last year the 1964 Community Chest drive fell short of its $8,440 budget. Despite this the budget has been increased this year because of rising needs by the organizations supported by the Community Chest, and this year an all-out effort will be made to reach the $10,000 goal.

Joe Hogan, Community Chest president, vowed.

Need Cooperation
Hogan commented that the cooperation of Waupaca citizens is needed to reach the new goal from $900 to $1,100. Other basic purpose of the agencies supported by the Community Chest is to combine munity Chest and the amounts to $10,000 will be used for agency funds and eliminate the budgeted are Childrens Service operating expense.

1965-66 Community Chest officers are Hogan, president, $23, up $1; Wisconsin Service Hanke, vice president and drive chairman, Melvin Mather, secretary, and Frank Egan, treasurer.

Last year the Red Cross was given $2,400. This year it was budgeted for $2,500 because of reduced collection from the annual Red Cross spring campaign and rising costs of the programs, such as the blood-

Boy Scout Funds
The Boy Scout allotment of $4.9 per cent of the total budget will receive $2,100 or $200 more than last year. Hogan said the general operating costs of the Boy Scouts have increased and another district executive added to the staff.

The cost per couple will be $3.60. Persons desiring reservations should call the Columbus Club at 3-9710; Dorothy Bodmer, 3-9646; Helen Hart, 4-7468; and Dolores Otto, 3-9341.

Deadline for reservations is Monday.

Health Allocations
Social Health Association $25, Wisconsin Association for Mental Health, $250, Jackson Memorial Laboratories $250, Yale Medical School $75, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation $200, up $145. A letter requesting funds from the Foundation explained that its expenses in Waupaca were $189, or $134 more than allotted last year.

An $800 contribution will be made to the Waupaca Association for the Mentally Retarded. Last year the association requested funds after the budget had been set so the association was allocated only $300 and the organization sponsored a separate campaign.

The total amount required for disbursement this year is $9,690. The $310 which brings the total to $10,000 will be used for agency funds and eliminate the budgeted are Childrens Service operating expense.

coaches are Bob Landis and Tom Romesko

Offensive Backs

1965 Football Schedule

Sept. 10—At Green Bay Southwest.
Sept. 17—At Oshkosh.
Sept. 23—Green Bay East.
Oct. 2—At Green Bay Preble.
Oct. 9—Sheboygan North.
Oct. 16—Fond du Lac.
Oct. 23—Manitowish (Homecoming).
Oct. 30—At Sheboygan South.
Nov. 6—Green Bay West.

linemen back in harness include Jon Griffith, Ron Plamann, Pete Stark and center Gary Lutz.

Soley was the regular quarterback throughout the 1964 season. After a rugged start, Soley began hitting his passing targets with regularity as the season progressed. The Terrers opened the '64 season by losing three of the first four games, but as Soley developed, the AHS contingent improved to an even 4-4 mark for the season.

Kloes, a 205 pound fullback, was one of the pleasant surprises as a sophomore, blossoming into one of the finest backs in the loop in the latter stages of the season. The hard-running junior is expected to share the rushing burden with Brinkman and possibly junior Jeff Bruch.

Prime Targets

Soley's prime targets at the moment appear to be Griffith, senior Larry Einspahr, Brinkman and Dennis Lamers. Other quarterback candidates include Pat Garvey, Kent Johnson, Brent Gibson and Ade Dillon Jr.

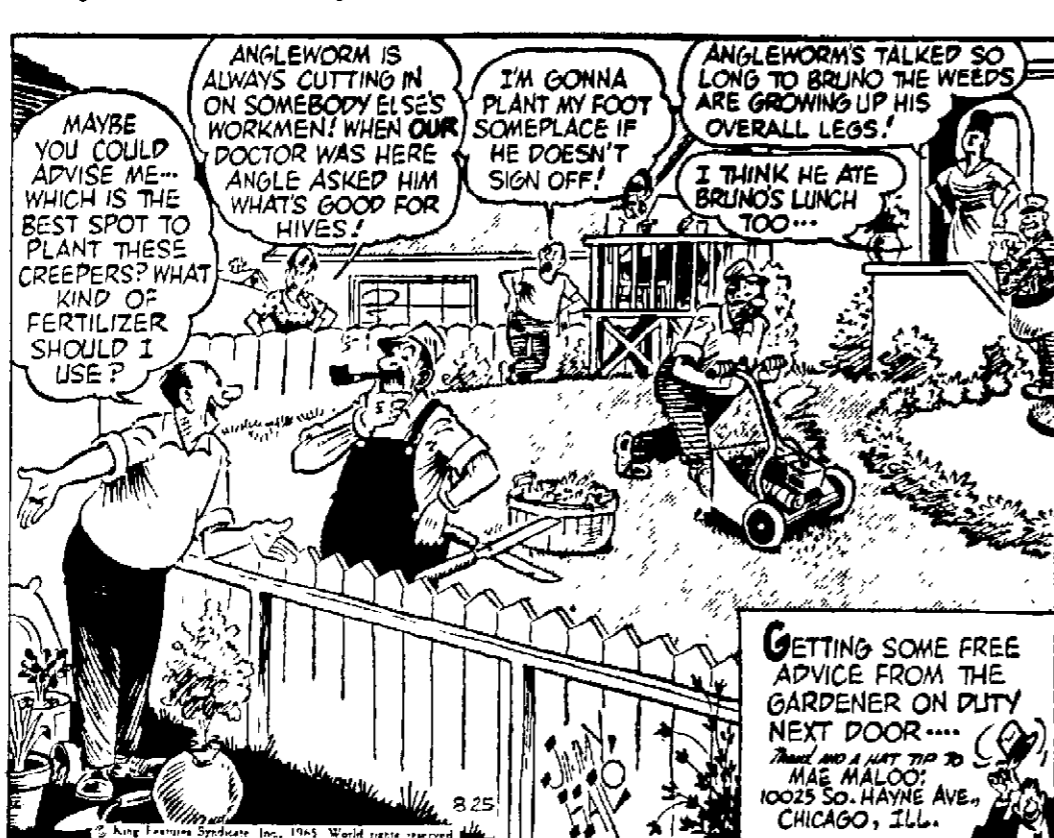

Another promising junior back, Gary Vivoda, will undoubtedly work his way into Coach Dillon's offensive planning.

"Defense appears to be the weakest point at present," commented Dillon. "We have three or four real tough kids, but we'll need more than that. It's hard to tell much yet, but I think we'll do all right. It all depends on the defense. Our offense should be able to move the ball well." the venerable AHS master strategist continued.

Most Impressive

Dillon listed linemen Tom Reitzner and Jim Michalkiewicz as the most impressive among the non-veterans. Another possible starter is Bob Simon, in the defensive or offensive backfield.

'Let-Down-Your-Hair Meeting'

Redlegs Back in Pennant Chase After Clubhouse Talk, Big Homer

By KEN HARTNETT Associated Press Sports Writer MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds spent 70 minutes talking, but all Tommy Harper needed was a few seconds to rocket the Reds back into the National League pennant scramble.

The 24-year-old Harper hit a two-out, two-run home run off the Milwaukee Braves ace reliever Billy O'Dell Tuesday night giving the Reds a 3-2 victory and moving them within 2½ games of the lead.

A loss would have left the Reds four games in back of the Braves, who were poised to take the lead before Harper's shot to left, and that's where the talking came in.

Finest of Year

Reds' Manager Dick Sisler, aware of the importance of the game, called his team together before batting practice.

"It was a let-down-your-hair meeting," explained Sisler "where I discussed things and so did they. It lasted for an hour and 10 minutes, but I didn't do

Simon transferred from Xavier. The defense will be constructed around stalwarts Ron Plamann, Pat Garvey and Dick Erickson.

Of the 120 candidates, 65 are sophomores. The squad will continue its 2-a-day drills through Monday, then switching to daily 3 p.m. practice sessions.

the league lead. Los Angeles had blown a 4-3 verdict to the last-place Mets and a Milwaukee victory would put the Braves one-half game ahead of the Dodgers in the pennant scramble.

70-Minute Meeting

The Reds' victory, after a 70-minute pre-game meeting called by Manager Dick Sisler, carried them within 2½ games of first place. They trail Milwaukee by two games and are one behind third-place San Francisco.

Pittsburgh's Don Cardwell stopped the Giants 5-2 on five hits; Houston edged Philadelphia 4-3 and St. Louis nipped the Cubs 7-6 in 10 innings in other NL games.

Maloney's 15th victory matched his total for 1964, when he came on to win nine of 11 decisions after July 1. He is 8-4 this year since that date.

Pinch hitter Johnny Stephenson delivered a three-run double in the ninth, pushing the Mets past Los Angeles. Stephenson connected off reliever Bob Miller after an error by Jim LeFebvre, Ed Kranepool's single and Joe Christopher's safe bunt loaded the bases.

Lou Johnson drove in all three Dodger runs with a single in the sixth and two-run double in the eighth.

Clipped for Two Runs

Cardwell, clipped for two runs in the third, blanked the Giants the rest of the way and collected two of Pittsburgh's 11 hits. The Pirates right-hander, now 11-8, singled in the fifth and scored the go-ahead run on Bob Bailey's triple off loser Bob Shaw.

Houston broke a 3-3 tie in the ninth when Rusty Staub, singled, Dave Adlesh walked and Philadelphia reliever Gary Wagner threw wildly to third on pitcher Don Nottebart's sacrifice bunt, enabling Staub to score. The Astros had tied it in the fifth on Jim Wynn's two-run homer off Chris Short.

Tito Francona lashed a pinch single off third baseman Ron Santo's glove, scoring Curt Flood with the winning run in the 10th at St. Louis. The Cardinals had blown a 6-2 lead, with Jim Stewart's ninth-inning sacrifice fly pulling the Cubs even.

again at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Waterloo pitcher Jim Thomas limited the Foxes to just four hits, all singles. Thomas soared through the first 2-3 innings without issuing a hit before Miller himself snapped the thus far perfect performance.

The Foxes, who stranded just five runners, never threatened in the game. In fact, no Fox Cities runner managed to pass second base.

Meanwhile, the visitors took advantage of a Foxes' lapse afield and on the mound for two runs in the sixth inning.

Lead-off man Brian Edgerly opened the festivities with a sinking line single to left field.

Hal Wade sacrificed him to second, but Dick Hickerson's throw to Dennis Denning at first for the putout on Wade sailed

Through Denning's outstretched hands, with Edgerly circling the bases to break the scoreless tie.

Protect the Wisconsin UC System

Thirty years ago a foresighted Wisconsin state administration and legislature, led by Philip F. LaFollette who passed away last week, enacted the first unemployment compensation law in this country. Since that time so-called unemployment insurance payments have been made available in every state, largely because the federal government at a later time enacted a national system modeled upon the Wisconsin example.

During most of that time Paul Raushenbush, a professional civil servant, has been the chief administrative officer of the pioneering and successful Wisconsin unemployment program and fund. During most of that time Mr. Raushenbush has had to worry, however, about the federal power preempting Wisconsin initiative and management in this field, and superimposing a federal law less desirable, less workable, and less fair to Wisconsin employes and their employers than that which is already operating here.

We suppose that if Mr. Raushenbush added the travel costs of his innumerable trips to Washington to lobby and testify against the expropriation of the Wisconsin fund and the Wisconsin program by the federal power grabbers, they would make a tidy sum. Mr. Raushenbush recently made yet another trip, to testify before yet another congressional committee, and to repeat what he has said so often and so truthfully before.

The Wisconsin law was conceived as a buffer against the shock of lay-offs to the workingman, and to the property tax budgets of localities which support the local public assistance programs, on the one hand, and to encourage employers to do their utmost to avoid lay-offs, on the other, by providing a tangible incentive to stable employment practices.

The incentive is a device known as experience rating. The employer with a stable employment record quickly reduces his payroll tax liability to a virtual zero. The employer with an unsatisfactory lay-off record must pay more.

For several decades the states with less effective and prudent systems, and the planners of the all-powerful national state, have attempted to pool the Wisconsin system, in effect, with the national program so that the incentive feature of the wise Wisconsin law would be lost. The current effort in the Congress is not as direct as some in the past. Enemies of the Wisconsin plan have evidently learned something from their rebuffs. But the plan offered by President Johnson attacks the experience rating concept by indirection, and it proposes infinitely more federal control over the entire program. Inevitably it would be the forerunner of a federalized system, if adopted. As Mr. Raushenbush aptly warned:

"Make no mistake about it. This is the place where the road really forks."

Every Wisconsin employe aware of the value of the state-devised program of 1935, every thoughtful employer, should make known his desire to the Congress for the elimination of this threat to the integrity and solvency of a proud Wisconsin social welfare achievement.

Czech Government Goes to Great Lengths to Kill Off Catholicism

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

PRAGUE.—At the Nesnaze Bar, five chorines come on dressed as nuns. The center girl sings a prayer into the microphone. Then they all break into the can-can and finish off with a strip-tease, one by one. It's a popular place for government bigwigs. The perprewar Czechoslovakia, only 15,000 remain.) Innocent Western visitors sometimes observe that the churches are full. This is because so many have been closed, for with the erosion of the clergy there are too few churches. And the age level of the parishioners gets older and older.

KILL THE CHURCH

There's an ancient Bohemian saying that "he who would attack a king must kill him." The official atheist doctrine of the government has chosen these ways to kill the church.

In the place of religious faith it tries to substitute pagan rallies and a pride in Party glory. But as this kills off religious faith it kills off faith in nearly anything.

The Nazis contrived the substitution of Nazism for religious feeling and family ties more successfully than this project here. They promised a powerful nation with a faithful (to them) youth as the mainspring for it. Unfortunately, this made sense to the millions of young Germans. But even Communist officials here confess that most Czech youths scoff at the idea of a powerful Czechoslovakia.

"This little country? In an atom age? Nonsense," an office worker said to me.

Nor can the commissars steam up the people about world leadership by the Soviet Union. This is the westernmost of the Soviet bloc countries. Russia's glory is everywhere on display. The Red Star is incorporated into the Czech national emblem. But these diligent, intelligent, attractive people are Czechs, not Russians; less than 10 per cent are Communists and they don't see how world glory that goes to Russia comes to them.

Moreover, many Czechs realize that much of the glory the Party leaders spray on the U.S.S.R. is self-serving for the leaders themselves.

A case in point is occurring right now. Czechoslovakia's national interest is not involved in Viet Nam. Yet the government reaction against the United States could hardly be more noisy if our Marines had marched into Prague.

SMASH EMBASSY WINDOWS

First, there was the window-smashing riot at our embassy, directly under the eyes of the Czech sentry-box that observes everything from across the street. Now President Novotny barks only negatives at U.S. Ambassadors Outerbridge Horsey (a very cool-headed man), although routine negotiations continue in the foreign office.

Two ministers who had accepted a guest invitation to the United States—a great event for them and their pleasure was plain—cancelled it on July 15, the eve of departure. In contrast, the government is doing everything to display great warmth to the Canadians.

They are tying all this to Viet Nam.

The controlled press and radio are in a new crescendo on the "Yanks Go Home From Viet Nam" theme—all poured out on a population extraordinarily friendly to the United States and intensely proud to have so many relatives in America.

U.S. officials in Prague figure that the uproar is not really addressed to the Czech people. It is a cheap way to the government to "shoe solidarity" with the U.S.S.R.

What we are witnessing at home in the very strained relations here at the moment is merely the Czech leaders polishing the apples of their Kremlin masters at absolutely no cost to themselves.

Wisconsin Report

Statutory Political Committees Are Mere Skeleton Formations

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—The Brown County politician was effusive as he encountered the reporter in the hotel lobby. "Thank you," he said, "for remembering that there is a political party state central committee established under Wisconsin law and that its members are elected according to law."

The reporter had not re-

U.S. senators and congressmen and others about job patronage, are interviewed by the newspapers, speak for the parties' objectives and otherwise function as managers of the political system.

Yet in the strict meaning of the law, these are not "parties" at all. The "parties," as defined by statute, are those organizations provided by law, at the top of which is the state central committee. Moreover, as our Brown County friend so eagerly pointed out, the statutory "party" officers are elected. The precinct committeeman is elected on the public ballot at the primary election. The state central committeeman is also elected, by a strict provision of the law. In a manner of speaking, these men are public officials. Their offices are created, and their powers and duties are prescribed by law.

membered that he had offered such an explanation lately, and wondered why the man was so anxious to make the point. The State Central Committee in the Wisconsin contemporary system of politics has become such an insignificant thing that perhaps there is not one loyalist out of a dozen, in either party, who knows that it exists, or who could offhand name the chairman of the party committee of his own preference.

(For those Democrats and Republicans who may now be puzzled, the Democratic State Central Committee chairman for some years has been Leland McFarland, the Milwaukee suburban state senator, and the Republican State Central Committee chairman is Everett Yerly, the veteran LaCrosse party worker.)

SKELETONS

Here is one of the incongruities of the political system, and an example of the conflict between theory and practice in the infinitely practical science of modern politics.

For all practical purposes, the "parties" in Wisconsin are run by the voluntary, extra-legal committees now headed by Chairman Louis Hanson and Chairman Ody Fish of the Democratic and Republican organizations, respectively. These are the men who run the campaigns, raise the parties' funds, hire the parties' staffs, operate the campaign headquarters, consult with governors and presidents and

Why do these skeleton organizations survive, even in a statutory sense? Because nobody has yet thought it wise, or prudent, to transfer to the extra-legal voluntary associations of politicians a couple of occasional functions of some importance. For example, in the event of a death or other cause of a vacancy on a party ballot after the primary election nominations, the statutory committees have the right and duty to nominate. About the only other function that comes to mind is the selection of alternate delegates to national party conventions at four year intervals.

Prevalence of People Cause of Major Woes

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I have been re-reading Marston Bates' book of 10 years ago, "The Prevalence of People," in a recent paperback edition; and everything that has been happening in the decade since the book was first published tends to reinforce his argument that "the never looked at night. Car keys are left in the ignition, and packages in the back seat. The local grocer will honor anyone's personal check, and has not been stuck with a bad one in 30 years. And by "anyone," he means resorter and transients as well as local citizens.

None of this is possible in a dense center of population. Not because the people are worse, but because there are so many of them; because the personal feeling is almost absent in an undifferentiated mass; because the economic competition is necessarily fiercer, and the social position fluctuates wildly.

There is still a kind of medieval stability in a village. On the bad side, this makes for rigidity and narrowness of outlook; but on the good side, it makes for mutual trust, for acceptance of one's status, and for a regard for the rights of others—all of which are painfully lacking in the huge, faceless machinery of the city.

This is not a nostalgic plea for a return of the small, agrarian, Jeffersonian type of society, which no force on earth can ever bring back. But it is a reminder that we cannot easily blame the woes of modern living on any alien philosophy or economic perversion of the ideas of our Founding Fathers.

It is foolish to blame any "ism" for what has been happening to the quality of American life in the 20th Century—for most of the minutes, as well as the pluses, have come from industrialism itself. The alarming changes in our society spring more from the swollen size of our body than from the perverted shape of our mind.

How Honest Should a Teacher Be?

The state of Connecticut has a teacher tenure law which provides that once a teacher has been employed in a school system for three years his contract will be automatically renewed each year unless there is shown serious cause for his dismissal. The result of this has been a strange concession in New Haven.

Principal Robert LeVine of Hillhouse High School has been charged by the Board of Education with boosting the grades of hundreds of Hillhouse students so as to make it easier for them to get into top colleges. The inquiry came about after Yale authorities became suspicious of the high number of qualifying students from Hillhouse. Almost a dozen other of the better known colleges in the east joined the inquiry.

During the public hearings on the charges, denied by LeVine and his lawyer, the lawyer stated that even if the charges were true, "the best you're going to get out of here is a conclusion of administrative failure." The Board hastily took a ten minute recess which stretched out for almost an hour. When it returned, its spokesman agreed that LeVine's stature as a teacher was "not an issue. The whole case pertains only to his competence in his present post as principal."

Quite obviously the Board did not want to become involved in trying to fire a teacher with tenure as apparently much more serious charges would have to be filed and proved. There may be some sympathy here too for a man whose sin, as charged, was to try to get his students into college or to keep high the academic prestige of his school.

But the result, both of the Board's decision and indirectly of the tenure law itself, is to state in effect that in Connecticut a teacher need not be as honest as a principal.

Negotiating Out of Yemen

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic has always been a staunch foe of colonialism at least when Great Britain was the master. But his own attempt to become such a master has so far met with humiliating defeat. It is likely that Nasser's current meeting with King Faisal of Saudi Arabia is to try to save some measure of face.

When rebels in Yemen rose up against the Iman, Nasser thought it a good time to back his type of democratic principles and so he sent in quite a few troops to help. But the war dragged on without a great deal of enthusiasm on either side. Saudi Arabia backed the royalists although mostly with arms and ammunition rather than men. And the Egyptian troops didn't do much better against the Yemen royalists than they did against Israel some years ago.

The British say that Nasser has lost the war in Yemen, that Egyptian garrisons have been isolated and that the meetings now are to try to come out a little ahead. It may be only in semantics. If Yemen is called the "republic" of Yemen, it will be a Nasser victory of sorts. If it remains a monarchy, Faisal will have won. Some Yemenis merely hope to be recognized as a state and come out ahead themselves.

by "Mustapha" and "Mohamed," was supposed to be from some criminals Dal Amico, it said, "deserved death because he refused to give us the address. But we had pity on him" and tied him instead in the woods only some 500 yards from his home. Then Dal Amico tied himself up and waited.

But he did such a good job of it all he couldn't free himself. And no one paid any attention to the coat and note for three days. Boy Scouts found Dal Amico who was not in the best of shape despite his six weeks vacation.

At last report Dal Amico was recovering but neither his wife nor his employer were speaking to him.

President Antonin Novotny has appointed a renegade priest who was dethroned by the Vatican to be Minister of Education. Religious instruction perpetuates the Church and the faith in God. No priest or nun can give religious instruction. This is the government's throat-hold on the future. Even teaching sacred organ music is prohibited.

Every priest, to say Mass in church, must swear an oath of allegiance to the Red government. The Labor Bureau also assigns each priest an additional job and exerts control this way. It likewise controls the restaffing of dioceses, and in many it is not permitted.

North Vietnamese Unwilling Chance of Peace Talks Dim Despite Battering

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — After U.S. Marines shattered the Viet Cong at Chu Lai last week the Johnson administration reportedly had hopes the North Vietnamese might now like to talk peace. The prospect still looks dismal.

In Moscow Tuesday the North Vietnamese Embassy laid down a condition that the United States must agree to a troop withdrawal from Viet Nam before there can be any negotiations.

Because of the diplomatic shadow-boxing on both sides in this struggle it is possible the Communists were not insisting upon a troop withdrawal before talks got into negotiations.

That seems beside the point since the North Vietnamese contended they had not switched from the four points they laid down last April for any peace talks. The United States had rejected those conditions.

Running in Circle
A timetable shows how the Viet Nam peace train has been running in a circle.

After President Johnson last Feb. 7 ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam the White House issued a statement.

"The key to the situation remains the cessation of infiltration from North Viet Nam and the clear indication from the Hanoi regime that it is prepared to cease aggression against its neighbors."

Pressure built up on Johnson to say more. The pressure doubled when 17 nonaligned nations on April 1 called for immediate negotiations "without any precondition" for a solution.

Then on April 7 at Baltimore Johnson made a speech in which the only precondition for peace talks was that there be no conditions.

Unconditional Discussions
"There may be ways to find peace... we remain ready for unconditional discussions."

But in the same speech he had laid down conditions for the only kind of final settlement the United States would accept: "An independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others — free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no other country."

This was saying that, while there didn't have to be conditions for starting peace talks, there could be no peace that let the North Vietnamese Communists gobble up South Viet Nam.

On April 11 an editorial in the official Hanoi newspaper bluntly said: "We fight to the end."

And on April 13 the North Vietnamese Reds produced their own program as a basis for negotiations.

Withdraw Forces

1. Withdrawal of all U.S. forces from South Viet Nam, an end to attacks on North Viet Nam, and recognition of the territorial integrity of all Viet Nam.

2. Pending peaceful reunification of North and South Viet Nam, all foreign troops had to be withdrawn.

3. Settling South Viet Nam's problems by the South Vietnamese people themselves in accordance with the Viet Cong's program.

(Translated, this said the South Vietnamese must accept the Viet Cong as boss. South Viet Nam's refusal to do so is what the war is all about.)

4. Peaceful reunification of all Viet Nam without "any foreign interference."

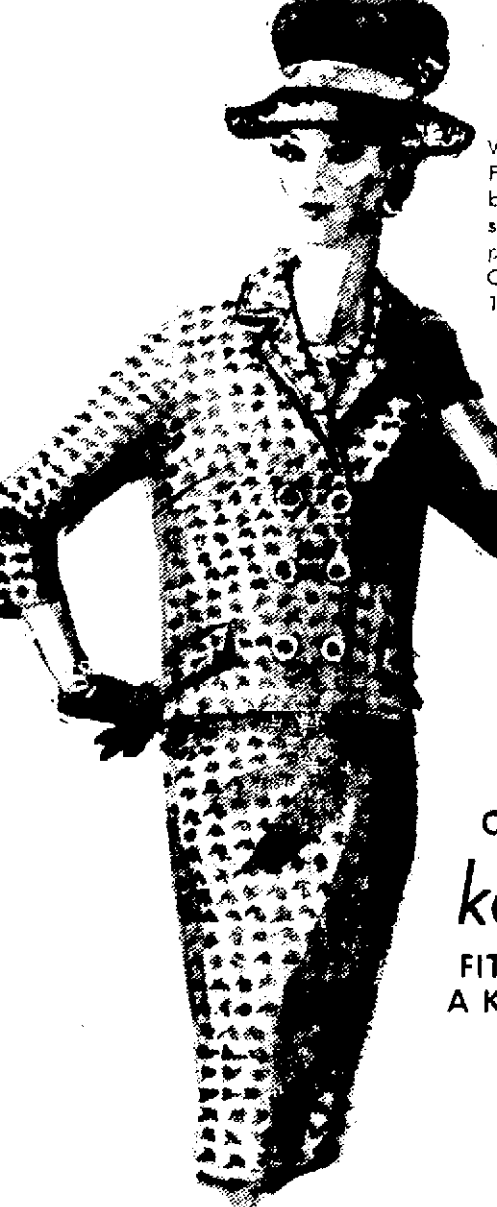

American officials promptly rejected this Communist proposal as a plan to deliver South Viet Nam to the Reds.

And on April 17 Johnson said the United States intended to stay in Viet Nam "until independence is secure but to leave when independence is surely guaranteed."

"Until that independence is guaranteed there is no human power capable of forcing us from Viet Nam... We are ready to begin discussions next week, tomorrow, or tonight."

Ever since, while the war gets worse, not better, Johnson has been awaiting the word. What the North Vietnamese Embassy in Moscow said Tuesday is hardly the word.
